Camille Gravel Case Will Be Considered At National Meeting

Demo Chief Butler Also Under Fire

WASHINGTON — (Special) — Democratic Party chairman Paul M. Butler said Friday Louisiana's Camille Gravel Jr.'s case will be taken up when the party's Credentials Committee meets here December 5.

He also promised he would make "some remarks" to the Democratic National Committee Dec. 6 on whether he'll continue as chairman.

In the Louisiana case, the state's Democratic Central Committee fired Camille Gravel Jr. as national committeeman for Louisiana in a dispute over civil rights. It voted to replace him with Jett Talbot, a pro-segregation leader.

Butler has said previously that Gravel continues as a member of the committee, regardless of the state party action. He said that between conventions, only the national committee can oust one of its members.

Butler said his stand for a strong civil rights program would be a decisive factor in whether he goes or stays.

In the campaign just ended, some Southern Democrats called Butler a radical and a troublemaker who, they said, should be kicked out of office.

They had been angered by a statement Butler made on a national television show in which he discussed how the Democratic party felt about those resisting its civil rights platform.

"If they don't want to go along on the racial problem," he said then, "then I think they are going to have to take political asylum wherever they can find it, either in the Republican party or a third party."

Butler told a news conference

Red Chinese Pulling Back Some Artillery

As Nationalist Shells Becoming More Accurate

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) —The Chinese Communists have begun pulling back some of their artillery under an increasingly accurate hail of Nationalist shells from Quemoy, the Nationalist defense ministry said Friday.

The ministry said the Nationalist gunners, using U.S. supplied eight-inch howitzers and smaller field pieces, knocked out three Red guns and one gun emplacement at Amoy, the Red mainland port nearest Quemoy. The Nationalists have claimed a total of 35 Red artillery pieces this week.

Military spotters on Quemoy reported a number of Communist guns being moved back to new fortifications built recently by thousands of Red soldiers.

POSITIONS

The defense ministry said the new positions were several hundred yards to the rear of the forward Red batteries.

The defense ministry announced that the Red guns fired some 1,700 rounds at the Quemoy Islands Friday in their "cat-and-mouse" bombardment of the offshore islands.

The Red guns which had been silent for 24 hours opened up a half - hour after midnight and maintained sporadic firing during the morning hours. The shelling became more intense during the afternoon, when the Reds lobbed 1,431 rounds at Big Quemoy and another 25 shells at the smaller islands.

Counterfiring Nationalist artillery scored direct hits on three Red cannon and a gun position during the day, the ministry said.

CONTINUE TESTS

Russians Deepen Nuclear Weapon Talks Stalemate

GENEVA (UPI) — Russia Friday deepened the stalemate in the nuclear talks here by again insisting it had the right to continue atomic weapons tests until the number matched the total set off by the West.

The Soviet position was stressed by its delegate as an answer to the disclosure that two Russian test explosions had been carried out since Oct. 31, the opening date of the conference. The United States and Britain had agreed to suspend tests for one year in the hope of reaching a more permanent solution to the nuclear armament race.

President Eisenhower revealed in Washington that the Soviets had exploded two nuclear devices since the Geneva talks started. The text of the White House statement was submitted to the conference by U.S. delegate James J. Wadsworth.

RELEASED

The Western statement said the United States and Britain considered themselves released from their one-year pledge to halt nuclear testing, although they planned no further explosions for the present.

In reply, Russia's chief delegate Semyon Tsarapkin referred to the official Soviet government statement of Oct. 31 outlining Russia's position on nuclear tests.

Lunch Report At Session Is Said Unlikely

Louisiana's school lunch investigators are not expected to make a report at the special session of the Legislature next week, it was learned here last night.

Rep. Lawrence Gibbs of Monroe said the committee appointed to investigate the school lunch program decided at a Baton Rouge meeting against making any reports to the Legislature.

"That decision was reached because we felt we haven't had a chance to go into all 64 parish programs," Gibbs, a member of the committee, said.

The committee, appointed at the twilight of last summer's regular session, was called to Baton Rouge shortly before Gov. Earl K. Long issued the special session summons.

Long called for the special session because of possible court action on the additional two-cent gas gathering tax passed by the regular Legislature.

PLANS

He plans to introduce a severance tax to replace the gas gathering tax.

Long also has his eye on Supt. Shelby M. Jackson's $4½-million school lunch surplus. An 11-point program issued by Long for the special session included the taking of four of Jackson's four and a half million.

In Baton Rouge, Jackson told the Associated Press he stands firm with the State Board of Education, which has refused to give up the $4½-million surplus.

Asked for comment on the board question, Jackson referred to the Sept. 9 board resolution and said:

"I must stand on the position of the board. It controls the (school

Dulles States Russians Will Be Condemned

Says U.S. Has No Intentions To Start Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said Friday the world will condemn Russia for continuing nuclear weapons tests in the face of a United Nations resolution urging a halt.

Dulles made this comment to a news conference a few hours after the United States and Britain disclosed they caught Russia firing what might have been two sneak shots.

The White House said, and London quickly concurred, that the Soviet blasts free them to follow suit—although they won't for the time being at least.

Dulles said the United States has no present intention of going to the U.N. to seek a formal resolution of condemnation. That, he said, might be interpreted as an effort to make political capital for the United States.

CONFIDENT

But he said he is confident that condemnation in the minds and hearts of the people represented at the U.N. would be just as effective as a resolution.

What effect the new Russian tests will have on significant talks at Geneva remains to be seen. The talks, supposed to seek an East-West agreement for a supervised ban on testing, are not going too well anyway.

The Russian Delegation at Geneva had no immediate comment on a statement by President Eisenhower which said:

1. Despite a United Nations resolution urging no nuclear weapons tests after the Geneva meeting started Oct. 31, Russia continued testing nuclear weapons.

2. The two Soviet shots since Oct. 31 were fired at a site other than Russia's regular atomic proving grounds north of the Arctic Circle.

3. The United States and Britain will abide by their pledge not to test beyond Oct. 31, even though Russia continued testing. However, Eisenhower added the United States will reconsider unless Russia promises soon to halt tests.

Dulles said he did not know how long the United States and Britain would wait before reconsidering. He said a lot of factors must be considered, including progress at the Geneva talks.

The secretary said it is a matter of surmise whether Russia tried to hold sneak tests. The shots detected were fired No. 1

Hungarians Riot Outside U.N. Building

NEW YORK (UPI) — Some 300 Hungarians shouting "Khrushchev, drop dead" rioted outside the Russian U.N. delegation building on Park Avenue Friday night while, inside the former mansion, diplomats from many nations attended a gala affair marking the 41st anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Two hundred mounted policemen and patrolmen drove the demonstrators back as they charged the building. Three persons were injured. Thirteen persons, including one woman, were arrested.

Police, mindful of a similar riot earlier this year, had been on hand in numbers when the disturbances began peacefully enough as organized picketing at about 6 p.m. The pickets had obtained police permission and were under the auspices of the Hungarian federation of former political prisoners.

'FREEDOM'

Pickets, shouting "freedom for Hungary" and anti - Khrushchev slogans, smashed their signs against the barricades. They tried to push past the police lines. Several signs were smashed against the barred windows of the building and against the building's walls. No windows were broken.

High police officials credited prompt police action with preventing another of the wild disturbances such as those which resulted in serious injuries and international incidents at various diplomatic posts throughout the world earlier this year.

Two policemen were injured. One demonstrator received a bad gash over his left eye, either from fellow demonstrators or from police action in breaking up the riot.

Twenty Men Saved From Icy Island

WASHINGTON (AP) — A score of men who were plucked from their storm-split ice island up near the North Pole were enjoying the comparative luxuries of northern Greenland Friday night.

They had been airlifted from the sundered island by a C123J plane which made a 600-mile flight from Thule, Greenland, to bring the air force and civilian scientists to safety.

Flarepots strung along the 2,200-foot landing strip on the ice enabled the crew of the twin-engine transport to slide in for a ski landing in the black artic night. They hustled men and valuable records aboard the plane and took off with an assist from rocket boosters.

LOAD

Because of the load of passengers, the plane made a refueling stop on the return trip at Alert. Alert, an emergency field on the most northern spot of land in the world, differs from the floating ice island as a landing place only in having rocky hills bordering the runway. Eternal snow and ice blankets everything else.

The runway at Ice Island Alpha originally had been much longer than 2,200 feet. When a violent arctic gale broke the island in two, the runway's length was chopped off. Moreover, the camp at which the scientific party had been operating was on the other part of the island. The men had to make a mile and a half journey in a small boat to reach the ice section with the runway. All equipment was left behind, possibly to be picked up later when daylight and better weather returns to the North Pole region.

EARLY TODAY

New Launch Try At Moon Looms

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An Air Force moon rocket appears to be in preparation for another launching attempt early Saturday.

Since a lunar probe launching attempt comes an hour later each day it is postponed, the floodlights Friday night would not necessarily have to come on until a late hour.

Nevertheless, if the knock in the rocket that reportedly forced cancellation of an initial launching attempt early Friday had been corrected, the new attempt early Saturday would come as the next to the last chance to fire an Air Force space probe this month.

After Sunday morning, conditions will be less than satisfactory for a lunar probe until the first week in December.

52 TON

An attempt to launch the 52-ton Thor - Vanguard combination rocket bearing an instrument-packed lunar satellite was called off about 50 minutes before the planned firing time of 1:22 a.m. EST Friday.

First reports were that recurrent driving rain and a low cloud ceiling had forced the cancellation.

Later it was learned, however, that a knocking noise had developed within the 88-foot-tall launching vehicle and that it could not be identified in the short period of delay permitted.

Film Stuntman Shoots His Wife And Her Mother

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A film stuntman shot his wife to death Friday, fatally wounded her mother in a violent struggle, and ended his own life after phoning a friend: "Come over quick. I've lost everything."

Louis Morphy, 54, died beneath a picture of his mother. Friends said he had been despondent since her death two years ago.

Associates said business trouble also plagued the stuntman, who once toured in vaudeville as a pistol sharpshooter.

Before he took his own life his daughter, Valerie, 12, said she heart her father say: "I've had enough. This is it."

Morphy used only two shells. One killed his sleeping wife, Valerie (Boots) Morphy, nationally known hydroplane racer.

Dulles Confident Of Working With Demo Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles expressed confidence Friday that he will be able to work with the new strongly Democratic Congress for the effective conduct of U.S. foreign policy. He promised consultations on a bipartisan basis.

Dulles also told a news conference the Soviet Union faces worldwide condemnation — as well as condemnation in the United Nations — for continuing nuclear weapons testing after the United States and Britain stopped Oct. 31.

Dulles made this other point at his meeting with reporters:

The Western powers and Soviet Union are making some progress on a solution of disarmament problems although moving at a snail's pace. He attaches very great importance to talks opening in Geneva next week on ways of reducing the danger of a massive nuclear attack by any power.

Leg Amputation Follows Accident

RUSTON (Special) —An elderly man was in critical condition in a Ruston hospital last night after his left leg was amputated due to injuries received when he was run over by a truck in downtown Ruston yesterday afternoon.

S. O. Denham, 77, 307 East Texas Ave., Ruston, suffered a mutilated leg and shock in the accident. According to witnesses, Denham was crossing the street at the post office corner when a truck driven by Durwood A. Murphy, Route 2, Haynesville, struck him.

No charges were filed last night, according to Ruston police.

Prediction

Ed Whetstone, area official of the Southern Bell Telephone company, is willing to make prediction that the Twin Cities will have total population of 97,000 by 1968.

This statement is backed by Ken Bagot, commercial engineer who makes exhaustive study of population trends, business, economic and other conditions. All this is essential for the company and enables it to keep pace with municipal and rural growth.

If population reaches the figure predicted for ten years hence, there will be no less than 30,150 phone subscribers, predicts Whetstone.

Quiz Show Producer Is Indicted By Jury

NEW YORK (UPI)—The producer of the television show "Twenty - One" was indicted Friday on charges of giving the wrong answers to a grand jury investigating reports that TV quiz shows had been fixed.

The producer, Albert Freedman, was arrested shortly after he was named in an indictment charging him with two counts of perjury.

Freedman, whose show gave away giant jackpots of hundreds of thousands of dollars during its two years and one month on the air, could be fined $10,000 and sentenced to 10 years in prison if convicted of the charges.

Freedman was taken in handcuffs to police headquarters after his arrest to be fingerprinted and photographed. He denied as he left the district attorney's office that he had lied in telling investigators that he never gave questions and answers to contestants.

"Everything I told the grand jury is true," he said.

The National Broadcasting Co., which aired "Twenty-One," disclaimed any connection with Freedman.

Red Boss Claims He's Hoping For End To Cold War

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Friday night he hoped the Democratic election victory in the United States will lead to an end to the cold war.

Speaking at a gala reception in the Kremlin Grand Palace, climaxing the 41st anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution, Khrushchev declared.

"Although we appreciate that the Republican and Democratic parties barely differ from each other as far as foreign policies are concerned, we look upon the U.S. election results from the point of view of improving relations between our countries.

"We hope that these results, which expressed voters' dissatisfaction with current government foreign policy, will lead to substantial changes, an end to the cold war and a stoppage of the short-sighted brink-of-war policy."

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union was "glad that the U. S. people condemn the policies of the brink of war and from positions of strength carried out by Secretary of State Mr. Dulles and supported by President Mr. Eisenhower."

Khrushchev preceded this statement with the remark that the Soviet Union does not believe in interfering in the internal affairs of others.

Clear And Crisp Is Local Outlook

Another clear and crisp November day is expected in the Twin Cities area today, with cloudy skies predicted for tomorrow.

Yesterday's high was 69, and the mercury dipped to a cold 37 for the low. Thursday's maximum and minimum were 65 and 49.

Winn Contributes $3,000 To Ark.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A delegation from Winnfield, La., today presented a $3,000.21 check to Gov. Orval E. Faubus. The money is to be used for operation of the Little Rock Private School Corp. here.

" We in Louisiana are a bit selfish because we know you are fighting our fight for us," Stanley J. Smith, vice president of the Winnfield School Board, told the governor.

Faubus replied, "I hope you don't have to go through what we are going through."

The private school corporation was set up to operate segregated schools for white students displaced when Faubus closed the public high schools here to avoid integration.

Representing Winn parish were Stanley J. Smith, chairman of the Winn parish drive, treasurer Robert Baker, Hiram Wright, H. P. Greer, E. G. Ferguson, Jack Henderson, J. J. Crippen, Dick Watts, Ed Hall and Russell Terry.

EMPHASIS ON 'PEACE'

Russia Celebrates Her 41st Birthday

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union put the emphasis on peace for celebration of its 41st birthday Friday. But this was coupled with a boast that it has all modern weapons needed to fight any new war.

Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, the defense minister, in the traditional anniversary speech in Red Square said the Soviet Union was "all for peace" but its efforts were "meeting stubborn resistance from the ruling circles of the United States and Britain."

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, other Soviet leaders, and visiting Polish Communist party secretary Wladyslaw Gomulka were in the reviewing stand atop the Lenin-Stalin tomb for the parade on this anniversary of the October Revolution.

The military parade was brief, lasting only seven minutes. Military attaches of foreign embassies saw not a single new weapon on display.

Behind the smart ranks of military academy cadets leading the parade came rocket launchers, motorized artillery, mortars and personnel carriers.

Parachute troops rode in half tracks. Massed bands brought up the rear.

Balloons in the shapes of rockets floated over the flag-draped square.

Behind the military procession came lines of sportsmen dressed in blue, red and green. Then came workers and other groups. Many carried pictures of Lenin, Khrushchev, President Klementi Voroshilov and members of the party Presidium.

Moscow was dressed up for the day. Red banners hung from buildings. Streets were decorated with crimson streamers and portraits of party and government leaders. Festively decorated Red Square was dominated by a giant portrait of Lenin.

Thousands of Soviet citizens jammed the streets around the Square. They carried banners, flags and flowers.

Plan To Keep La. Schools Going Being Considered

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—State finance officers are considering a tax-free plan to provide about $10 million to keep the state's schools open a full nine months, the New Orleans States-Item said today.

The additional funds, the paper said, will come from existing revenues through a complete revaluation of finances.

James Reily, chief budget officer for Gov. Earl Long, said that he and other finance leaders were considering the program, but he refused to discuss details.

The States-Item's story also contended:

Between nine million and ten million dollars would be made available for teacher salaries and some others school needs so that various school boards threatening to close early can keep schools open until June:

No tax increase would be needed to provide the new money nor would one be recommended by Reily or other top fiscal officers:

The plan needs passage of Long's proposal to convert the state's gas gathering tax, scheduled to be tested in court as unconstitutional, to a severance tax so that its constitutionality will be unquestioned.

The newspaper said the revenue would come from the welfare department, the education department and a shifting of dates in franchise and severance taxes.

Dulles States Russians Will Be Condemned

Says U.S. Has No Intentions To Start Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said Friday the world will condemn Russia for continuing nuclear weapons tests in the face of a United Nations resolution urging a halt.

Dulles made this comment to a news conference a few hours after the United States and Britain disclosed they caught Russia firing what might have been two sneak shots.

The White House said, and London quickly concurred, that the Soviet blasts free them to follow suit—although they won't for the time being at least.

Dulles said the United States has no present intention of going to the U.N. to seek a formal resolution of condemnation. That, he said, might be interpreted as an effort to make political capital for the United States.

CONFIDENT

But he said he is confident that condemnation in the minds and hearts of the people represented at the U.N. would be just as effective as a resolution.

What effect the new Russian tests will have on significant talks at Geneva remains to be seen. The talks, supposed to seek an East-West agreement for a supervised ban on testing, are not going too well anyway.

The Russian Delegation at Geneva had no immediate comment on a statement by President Eisenhower which said:

1. Despite a United Nations resolution urging no nuclear weapons tests after the Geneva meeting started Oct. 31, Russia continued testing nuclear weapons.

2. The two Soviet shots since Oct. 31 were fired at a site other than Russia's regular atomic proving grounds north of the Arctic Circle.

3. The United States and Britain will abide by their pledge not to test beyond Oct. 31, even though Russia continued testing. However, Eisenhower added the United States will reconsider unless Russia promises soon to halt tests.

Dulles said he did not know how long the United States and Britain would wait before reconsidering. He said a lot of factors must be considered, including progress at the Geneva talks.

The secretary said it is a matter of surmise whether Russia tried to hold sneak tests. The shots detected were fired No. 1

Red Boss Claims He's Hoping For End To Cold War

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Friday night he hoped the Democratic election victory in the United States will lead to an end to the cold war.

Speaking at a gala reception in the Kremlin Grand Palace, climaxing the 41st anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution, Khrushchev declared.

"Although we appreciate that the Republican and Democratic parties barely differ from each other as far as foreign policies are concerned, we look upon the U.S. election results from the point of view of improving relations between our countries.

"We hope that these results, which expressed voters' dissatisfaction with current government foreign policy, will lead to substantial changes, an end to the cold war and a stoppage of the short-sighted brink-of-war policy."

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union was "glad that the U. S. people condemn the policies of the brink of war and from positions of strength carried out by Secretary of State Mr. Dulles and supported by President Mr. Eisenhower."

Khrushchev preceded this statement with the remark that the Soviet Union does not believe in interfering in the internal affairs of others.

Clear And Crisp Is Local Outlook

Another clear and crisp November day is expected in the Twin Cities area today, with cloudy skies predicted for tomorrow.

Yesterday's high was 69, and the mercury dipped to a cold 37 for the low. Thursday's maximum and minimum were 65 and 49.

Twenty Men Saved From Icy Island

WASHINGTON (AP) — A score of men who were plucked from their storm-split ice island up near the North Pole were enjoying the comparative luxuries of northern Greenland Friday night.

They had been airlifted from the sundered island by a C123J plane which made a 600-mile flight from Thule, Greenland, to bring the air force and civilian scientists to safety.

Flarepots strung along the 2,200-foot landing strip on the ice enabled the crew of the twin-engine transport to slide in for a ski landing in the black artic night. They hustled men and valuable records aboard the plane and took off with an assist from rocket boosters.

LOAD

Because of the load of passengers, the plane made a refueling stop on the return trip at Alert. Alert, an emergency field on the most northern spot of land in the world, differs from the floating ice island as a landing place only in having rocky hills bordering the runway. Eternal snow and ice blankets everything else.

The runway at Ice Island Alpha originally had been much longer than 2,200 feet. When a violent arctic gale broke the island in two, the runway's length was chopped off. Moreover, the camp at which the scientific party had been operating was on the other part of the island. The men had to make a mile and a half journey in a small boat to reach the ice section with the runway. All equipment was left behind, possibly to be picked up later when daylight and better weather returns to the North Pole region.

Winn Contributes $3,000 To Ark.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A delegation from Winnfield, La., today presented a $3,000.21 check to Gov. Orval E. Faubus. The money is to be used for operation of the Little Rock Private School Corp. here.

"We in Louisiana are a bit self ish because we know you are fighting our fight for us," Stanley J. Smith, vice president of the Winnfield School Board, told the governor.

Faubus replied, "I hope you don't have to go through what we are going through."

The private school corporation was set up to operate segregated schools for white students displaced when Faubus closed the public high schools here to avoid integration.

Representing Winn parish were Stanley J. Smith, chairman of the Winn parish drive, treasurer Robert Baker, Hiram Wright, H. P. Greer, E. G. Ferguson, Jack Henderson, J. J. Crippen, Dick Watts, Ed Hall and Russell Terry.

EARLY TODAY

New Launch Try At Moon Looms

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An Air Force moon rocket appears to be in preparation for another launching attempt early Saturday.

Since a lunar probe launching attempt comes an hour later each day it is postponed, the floodlights Friday night would not necessarily have to come on until a late hour.

Nevertheless, if the knock in the rocket that reportedly forced cancellation of an initial launching attempt early Friday had been corrected, the new attempt early Saturday would come as the next to the last chance to fire an Air Force space probe this month.

After Sunday morning, conditions will be less than satisfactory for a lunar probe until the first week in December.

52 TON

An attempt to launch the 52-ton Thor-Vanguard combination rocket bearing an instrument-packed lunar satellite was called off about 50 minutes before the planned firing time of 1:22 a.m. EST Friday.

First reports were that recurrent driving rain and a low cloud ceiling had forced the cancellation.

Later it was learned, however, that a knocking noise had developed within the 88-foot-tall launching vehicle and that it could not be identified in the short period of delay permitted.

Film Stuntman Shoots His Wife And Her Mother

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A film stuntman shot his wife to death Friday, fatally wounded her mother in a violent struggle, and ended his own life after phoning a friend: "Come over quick. I've lost everything."

Louis Morphy, 54, died beneath a picture of his mother. Friends said he had been despondent since her death two years ago.

Associates said business trouble also plagued the stuntman, who once toured in vaudeville as a pistol sharpshooter.

Before he took his own life his daughter, Valerie, 12, said she heart her father say: "I've had enough. This is it."

Morphy used only two shells. One killed his sleeping wife, Valerie (Boots) Morphy, nationally known hydroplane racer.

The daughter and her brother, Louis Jr., 5, were unharmed.

Russia Celebrates Her 41st Birthday

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union put the emphasis on peace for celebration of its 41st birthday Friday. But this was coupled with a boast that it has all modern weapons needed to fight any new war.

Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, the defense minister, in the traditional anniversary speech in Red Square said the Soviet Union was "all for peace" but its efforts were "meeting stubborn resistance from the ruling circles of the United States and Britain."

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, other Soviet leaders, and visiting Polish Communist party secretary Wladyslaw Gomulka were in the reviewing stand atop the Lenin-Stalin tomb for the parade on this anniversary of the October Revolution.

The military parade was brief, lasting only seven minutes. Military attaches of foreign embassies saw not a single new weapon on display.

Behind the smart ranks of military academy cadets leading the parade came rocket launchers, motorized artillery, mortars and personnel carriers.

Parachute troops rode in half tracks. Massed bands brought up the rear.

Balloons in the shapes of rockets floated over the flag-draped square.

Behind the military procession came lines of sportsmen dressed in blue, red and green. Then came workers and other groups. Many carried pictures of Lenin, Khrushchev, President Klementi Voroshilov and members of the party Presidium.

Moscow was dressed up for the day. Red banners hung from buildings. Streets were decorated with crimson streamers and portraits of party and government leaders. Festively decorated Red Square was dominated by a giant portrait of Lenin.

Thousands of Soviet citizens jammed the streets around the Square. They carried banners, flags and flowers.

Plan To Keep La. Schools Going Being Considered

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—State finance officers are considering a tax-free plan to provide about $10 million to keep the state's schools open a full nine months, the New Orleans States-Item said today.

The additional funds, the paper said, will come from existing revenues through a complete revaluation of financs.

James Reily, chief budget officer for Gov. Earl Long, said that he and other finance leaders were considerin. the program, but he refused to discuss details.

The States-Item's story also contended:

Between nine million and ten million dollars would be made available for teacher salaries and some others school needs so that various school boards threatening to close early can keep schools open until June:

No tax increase would be needed to provide the new money nor would one be recommended by Reily or other top fiscal officers:

The plan needs passage of Long's proposal to convert the state's gas gathering tax, scheduled to be tested in court as unconstitutional, to a severance tax so that its constitutionality will be unquestioned.

The newspaper said the revenue would come from the welfare department, the education department and a shifting of dates in franchise and severance taxes.

DISTRICT COURT

Pair Convicted In Area Robbery

A 12-man jury last night returned a verdict of "guilty" against William Franklin Truitt and Johnnie W. Claunch, charged with the $20 armed robbery of a Mississippi farmer last June 29.

Judge Jesse Heard, who presided over the 11-hour session, remanded the men for pre-sentence investigation.

They can get up to 15 years in the state penitentiary for the gunpoint crime. Sentence is 1 to 15 years for the offense.

The pair were convicted of robbing E. B. Taylor, Sr. of Lucedale, Miss., as he rested by the side of the road at 4:30 a.m. while driving a load of produce to the Shreveport market.

The verdict was returned at 8:45 p.m.

Jury selection got underway at 10 a.m. After 18 prospective jurors were excused and 12 accepted, trial began at 3:20 p.m.

Eight witnesses were called and recalled during the session.

NEAR STATION

First on the stand was State Trooper Johnny Mitchell of Troop F, who stated that he and Trooper Charles James apprehended Truitt and Claunch near the weighing station east of Monroe on Highway 80.

He pointed out that State Police had been alerted to watch for suspects in a late model light blue Ford.

Next to testify was Taylor. He told how he halted his two-ton truck loaded with fresh peas "one mile this side of Calhoun" to check how the oil was holding up.

Accompanied by his 16-year-old son, who was sleeping in the cab of the truck, Taylor pointed out that he rested a few minutes on the long drive to the Shreveport market.

He heard the latch on the truck door click and looked into the end of a .32 caliber automatic pistol, held by a man wearing a hat and a handkerchief over his face, testimony brought out.

"He told me there was a fellow on the other side of the truck with shotgun, going to kill me if I didn't hand over my money," recalled the victim.

After relating how he tried to talk the robber out of taking his $20, Taylor said the man "stepped back, pulled the safety off the gun, and said he was tired of stalling."

HANDED OVER

Taylor handed over the money, and the robber sped off, as a "short man, sitting on the front seat next to him, turned his head and watched us until their car rounded a curve in the road."

The witness added that he later identified the masked robber in a six-man lineup at the Ouachita Parish jail.

He underwent an intensive cross-examination, in which attorneys Jesse McDonald and William G. Kelly pressured him on all points, from the reason why his son was not at the trial . . . "He was taking exams today," Taylor repeated again and again . . . to the reason Taylor would not discuss the case with McDonald before the trial.

Other witnesses to testify included Chief Deputy Frank Kirby, Dep. Bill Causey, Dep. Dick Bell and Dep. Matt Frantom, all of the Ouachita Parish Sheriff's Department, Trooper James, and W. I. Triplett, who serviced the car Truitt was driving before the men were arrested.

Deputy Causey played a recorded confession in which Truitt confessed he had stood on the other side of the truck and helped tall, dark-haired Claunch in the offense.

The state rested its case at 7:05 p.m.

After the men were arrested on June 29, the Sheriff's Department confirmed that the car the pair were driving had been stolen from Texas City, Tex.

Police in that city sent information on the stolen car. Truitt is from the state of Delaware, Claunch is from Texas City.

Earlier in the day, William D. Kennedy pled guilty to five counts of theft of money totalling $908 and issuing a worthless check for $30.

He was remanded by Judge Heard for pre-sentence investigation.

Robert Lee Flemings, who was found guilty of manslaughter earlier this week, was sentenced to 15 years in the state penitentiary at Angola.

Charges of theft of pulpwood worth $47 against Haywood Glover were not heard, due to the lengthy trial session on the armed robbery case.

Continued without date were two charges of theft, against Charlie B. Watwood.

'25 Sedan Holds Many Memories For Old Lady

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A 1925 sedan with only a few hundred miles of travel behind it rests in a private garage, a token of wonderful memories for an aged mother.

Mrs. Texas R. Crosby, 83, said the automobile went into the garage following the death of her son, Allen R. Crosby.

"My son bought the car new. He was so proud when he brought it home. . He took me for my very first automobile ride in it. I remember it so well. He had a beautiful box of candy on the seat. He told me it was for his very best girl friend."

Mrs. Crosby said the son died shortly after buying the car.

"It is about all I have left to remember him by. I guess when I die it will die, too. I'll never sell it."

Mrs. Crosby lives with her 65-year-old daughter, Mrs. Lidian C. Tryer, an invalid. "I take care of her," the mother said.

But back to the car. "It does look new, doesn't it?" Mrs. Crosby asked a newsman who went to the garage for a look.

"Allen was so proud...I can almost see him sitting there now, saying, 'The candy is for you, mom. You're my very best girl friend.'"

Gets Authority To Build In La.

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Louisiana Pipe Line Co. received Power Commission authority Friday to build and operate $1,523,200 worth of facilities in Louisiana.

The facilities will enable the company to buy natural gas from the Big Lake field in Cameron Parish.

D.R. Teel, 66, Dies; Services Are Arranged

SHREVEPORT (Special) — D. R. (Dave) Teel, 66, who retired Feb. 1, 1957 as district drilling and production superintendent for Union Producing Company after 44 continuous years of service with United Gas Corporation, died at 6 a.m. yesterday in a Tyler, Tex. hospital following a short illness.

A well known veteran of the oil and gas industry, Mr. Teel began working on drilling rigs for a United Gas predecessor before World War I. At the time of his retirement Mr. Teel had been superintendent of the Tyler district since its organization 100 years ca lier.

Born in Saratoga, Tex. Jan. 3, 1892, Mr. Teel began his tenure with United Gas Jan. 15, 19590 0as a driller in what is now the Monroe district. He worked as a driller and watchman in both the Monroe and Jackson, Miss. districts for a number of years. In October 1938 he was transferred to the Shreveport district as field drilling superintendent.

After serving five years in the Shreveport district Mr. Teel returned to the Monroe district in 19943 as field drilling and production superintendent. A year later he was transferred to the Dallas district to assume a similar position.

He was promoted to district drilling and production superintendent at Dallas in 1945 and on Dec. 26, 19496 was transferred to the newly created Tyler district.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Burkes-Walker-Tippett Funeral Home in Tyler. Burial will follow in Rose Hill Cemetery in Tyler.

Group At Macon, Miss. Sends 6 Checks To Ark.

LITTLE ROCK (UPI) — The school board of Noxubee county, Miss., agrees with Gov. Orval Faubus on segregation, and the Little arock Private School Corp. is $73.64 richer today because of that agreement.

The chairman of the Noxubee county school board at Macon, Miss., sent Faubus six checks from members of the board, representing the members' pay for attending one meeting.

Joe R. Miller, chairman of the board, said in his letter to Faubus that the board "heartily endorses your efforts and are proud of the stand you have taken to preserve segregation."

Russia does not censor the magazine. But the editors are careful to avoid any controversial political subjects because the U. S.-Soviet agreement provided such material would be left out.

Adlai 'Injured' Over Defeat Of Hays In Ark.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—U. S. Rep. Brooks Hays' office received a telegram from Adlai Stevenson Friday which said Stevenson felt "injured and indignant" over Hays' defeat by Dr. Dale Alford.

The eight-term Democratic congressman was edged out by Alford, a write-in independent candidate who had attacked Hays' record of moderation in the integration controversy.

Stevenson's telegram said, "I have been hoping and hoping for better news from Little Rock. It never occurred to me that this was possible, and I feel injured and indignant. The Congress won't be the same without such wise counsel in our foreign affairs and such understanding of such great problems as now confront us at home, including race relations on which your views commanded wider respect than most anyone."

Official Order To Attend La. Session Received

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Assistant district attorney Joseph Bossetta said Friday he had received official orders from Gov. Earl Long to attend the Legislature's special session opening Tuesday.

Bossetta claimed he resigned as state representative from Orleans Parish before he took the post with the district attorney's office. He said he would ask attorney general Jack Gremillion for a written opinion on the case.

HER SIXTH MARRIAGE

Martha Raye Sobs 'I Do's To Bodyguard

TEANECK, N.J. (AP)—Comedienne Martha Raye, sobbing her "I do's" softly, was married Friday to her bodyguard, Robert O'Shea.

"I just hope everything will stay this right," the 42-year-old actress said after the brief ceremony conducted bp Mayor August Hannibal in his modest home.

It was Miss Raye's sixth marriage, and the second for O'Shea, 31, former Westport, Conn., policeman who now operates a private detective agency in New York.

Movie star Joan Crawford was matron of honor and her husband, Alfred Steele, chairman of the board of Pepsi Cola, was best man.

Nearly two dozen photographers popped flashlights during the ceremony and later in the street.

Miss Raye wore a cocoa brown lace gown over champagne satin with white irridescent sequins, satin slippers, and a palamino mink stole. She wore a pearl necklace and pearl earrings.

Housewives in slacks and teenagers in shorts lined both sides of the mayor's home at 1299 Dickerson Rd., for a glimpse of Miss Raye.

Miss Raye made a hit with the crowd when she tossed her corsage of yellow orchids to Carolyn Miller, 16-year-old Teaneck High School junior.

'25 Sedan Holds Many Memories For Old Lady

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A 1925 sedan with only a few hundred miles of travel behind it rests in a private garage, a token of wonderful memories for an aged mother.

Mrs. Texas R. Crosby, 88, said the automobile went into the garage following the death of her son, Allen R. Crosby.

"My son bought the car new. He was so proud when he brought it home. . He took me for my very first automobile ride in it. I remember it so well. He had a beautiful box of candy on the seat. He told me it was for his very best girl friend."

Mrs. Crosby said the son died shortly after buying the car.

"It is about all I have left to remember him by. I guess when I die it will die, too. I'll never sell it."

Mrs. Crosby lives with her 65-year-old daughter, Mrs. Lidian C. Tryer, an invalid. "I take care of her," the mother said.

But back to the car. "It does look new, doesn't it?" Mrs. Crosby asked a newsman who went to the garage for a look.

"Allen was so proud...I can almost see him sitting there now, saying, 'The candy is for you, mom. You're my very best girl friend.'"

D.R. Teel, 66, Dies; Services Are Arranged

SHREVEPORT (Special) — D. R. (Dave) Teel, 66, who retired Feb. 1, 1957 as district drilling and production superintendent for Union Producing Company after 44 continuous years of service with United Gas Corporation, died at 6 a.m. yesterday in a Tyler, Tex. hospital following a short illness.

A well known veteran of the oil and gas industry, Mr. Teel began working on drilling rigs for a United Gas predecessor before World War I. At the time of his retirement Mr. Teel had been superintendent of the Tyler district since its organization 100 years ea lier.

Born in Saratoga, Tex. Jan. 3, 1892, Mr. Teel began his tenure with United Gas Jan. 15, 19590 0as a driller in what is now the Monroe district. He worked as a driller and watchman in both the Monroe and Jackson, Miss. districts for a number of years. In October 1938 he was transferred to the Shreveport district as field drilling superintendent.

After serving five years in the Shreveport district Mr. Teel returned to the Monroe district in 19943 as field drilling and production superintendent. A year later he was transferred to the Dallas district to assume a similar position.

He was promoted to district drilling and production superintendent at Dallas in 1945 and on Dec. 26, 19496 was transferred to the newly created Tyler district.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Burkes-Walker-Tippett Funeral Home in Tyler. Burial will follow in Rose Hill Cemetery in Tyler.

To Be Wed 2nd Time Since Her 89th Birthday

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—Mrs Annettie Teilborg was to be married Friday for the second time since her 89th birthday.

Mrs. Teilborg is 91.

She and Webster Goodrich, 87, were to be married at the First Baptist church by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher Jr. Dr. Brougher also officiated at her 1956 marriage to the late James Teilborg.

The spry oldsters met at a home for the aged in nearby Sunland, where they live. Goodrich, a former North Dakota farmer, moved to the home last August.

Gets Authority To Build In La.

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Louisiana Pipe Line Co. received Power Commission authority Friday to build and operate $1,523,200 worth of facilities in Louisiana.

The facilities will enable the company to buy natural gas from the Big Lake field in Cameron Parish.

Group At Macon, Miss. Sends 6 Checks To Ark.

LITTLE ROCK (UPI) — The school board of Noxubee county, Miss., agrees with Gov. Orval Faubus on segregation, and the Little arock Private School Corp. is $73.64 richer today because of that agreement.

The chairman of the Noxubee county school board at Macon, Miss., sent Faubus six checks from members of the board, representing the members' pay for attending one meeting.

Joe R. Miller, chairman of the board, said in his letter to Faubus that the board "heartily endorses your efforts and are proud of the stand you have taken to preserve segregation."

Russia does not censor the magazine. But the editors are careful to avoid any controversial political subjects because the U. S.-Soviet agreement provided such material would be left out.

Adlai 'Injured' Over Defeat Of Hays In Ark.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—U. S. Rep. Brooks Hays' office received a telegram from Adlai Stevenson Friday which said Stevenson felt "injured and indignant" over Hays' defeat by Dr. Dale Alford.

The eight-term Democratic congressman was edged out by Alford, a write-in independent candidate who had attacked Hays' record of moderation in the integration controversy.

Stevenson's telegram said, "I have been hoping and hoping for better news from Little Rock. It never occurred to me that this was possible, and I feel injured and indignant. The Congress won't be the same without such wise counsel in our foreign affairs and such understanding of such great problems as now confront us at home, including race relations on which your views commanded wider respect than most anyone."

Official Order To Attend La. Session Received

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Assistant district attorney Joseph Bossetta said Friday he had received official orders from Gov. Earl Long to attend the Legislature's special session opening Tuesday.

Bossetta claimed he resigned as state representative from Orleans Parish before he took the post with the district attorney's office. He said he would ask attorney general Jack Gremillion for a written opinion on the case.

HER SIXTH MARRIAGE

Martha Raye Sobs 'I Do's To Bodyguard

TEANECK, N.J. (AP)—Comedienne Martha Raye, sobbing her "I do's" softly, was married Friday to her bodyguard, Robert O'Shea.

"I just hope everything will stay this right," the 42-year-old actress said after the brief ceremony conducted bp Mayor August Hannibal in his modest home.

It was Miss Raye's sixth marriage, and the second for O'Shea, 31, former Westport, Conn., policeman who now operates a private detective agency in New York.

Movie star Joan Crawford was matron of honor and her husband, Alfred Steele, chairman of the board of Pepsi Cola, was best man.

Nearly two dozen photographers popped flashlights during the ceremony and later in the street.

Miss Raye wore a cocoa brown lace gown over champagne satin with white irridescent sequins, satin slippers, and a palamino mink stole. She wore a pearl necklace and pearl earrings.

Housewives in slacks and teenagers in shorts lined both sides of the mayor's home at 1299 Dickerson Rd., for a glimpse of Miss Raye.

Rate Fight Moves Into New Arena

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A year-long rate fight moved into a new arena Friday as Dist. Judge G. Caldwell Herget set a Nov. 24 hearing on denial of Southern Bell Telephone Company's request for a $14,242,000 rate hike.

Bitterly controversial hearings dragged on more than 10 months before the Louisiana Public Service Commission said last month the telephone company had "failed to perform its obligation as a public utility."

The commission ruled, although entitled to $1,918,707 increase, no higher rates would be granted until Southern Bell improved service and began a reasonable expansion program.

Before the hearings began, the commission flatly rejected a telephone company bid for an emergency seven million dollar boost and charged during the hearings Southern Bell carried out a "sit down strike" in service to build pressure for higher rates.

Southern Bell appealed the decision Sept. 27, and the case appears headed for the Louisiana Supreme Court, no matter what Herget decides.

A 1956 rate reduction ordered by the commission was upheld by the high court. The 20 per cent slash in long distance rates inside Louisiana and reduced pay station calls from a dime to a nickel was designed to trim telephone company earnings by some four million dollars.

In a hearing Friday, the commission granted Olin Gas Transmission rate hike on natural gas supplied the city of Port Allen.

Olin said its average wellhead cost of natural gas was 14.71 cents, while it sold the gas to Port Allen for a fraction over 15 cents.

Belly Dancer Is Threatened With A Trial

ROME (UPI) — A shapely Turkish belly dancer Friday was threatened with trial and imprisonment for stripping to her black lace panties at a high society private party that also featured Anita Ekberg in a torrid cha cha cha dance.

Miss Ekberg burst a zipper on her skin-tight dress but the buxom blonde Swedish star did not disrobe except for her shoes. She performed barefoot.

When Turkish dancer Kiash Nanah took the floor at the party in the Rugantino Restaurant Wednesday night, it was a different story. She waltzed on in a white evening gown.

Miss Nanah, otherwise known as "green eyes," apparently was so moved by the "Roman New Orleans Jazz Band" that she took it off.

Pelled down to black lace panties, she pounded a tom-tom and gyrated on the jackets of blue-blooded admirers who stripped to their shirtsleeves for the occasion.

At that point, the police burst in.

The 200 members of the audience, among them seven Roman princes and assorted actors and actresses, faded fast.

In the audience was American actress Linda Christian, divorced wife of Tyrone Power.

Olin said its average wellhead cost of natural gas was 14.71 cents, while it sold the gas to Port Allen for a fraction over 15 cents.

Belly Dancer Is Threatened With A Trial

ROME (UPI) — A shapely Turkish belly dancer Friday was threatened with trial and imprisonment for stripping to her black lace panties at a high society private party that also featured Anita Ekberg in a torrid cha cha cha dance.

Miss Ekberg burst a zipper on her skin-tight dress but the buxom blonde Swedish star did not disrobe except for her shoes. She performed barefoot.

When Turkish dancer Kiash Nanah took the floor at the party in the Rugantino Restaurant Wednesday night, it was a different story. She waltzed on in a white evening gown.

Miss Nanah, otherwise known as "green eyes," apparently was so moved by the "Roman New Orleans Jazz Band" that she took it off.

Pelled down to black lace panties, she pounded a tom-tom and gyrated on the jackets of blue-blooded admirers who stripped to their shirtsleeves for the occasion.

At that point, the police burst in.

The 200 members of the audience, among them seven Roman princes and assorted actors and actresses, faded fast.

In the audience was American actress Linda Christian, divorced wife of Tyrone Power.

Social Security Lags

Big contributing factors in Louisiana's strained financial situation are the low percentage of social security funds and the high percentage of state welfare funds received by citizens of this state. These facts have been pointed out by the Public Affairs Research Council.

Louisiana ranks 48th in the nation in the proportion of its population age 65 and over receiving social security benefits. It contributes two and one-half times as much as the national average in state welfare funds.

Social security benefits are received through a national program which virtually amounts to insurance. Money is deducted each pay day from the earnings of practically all of those in the United States who are on pay rolls. In addition, many thousands of persons pay social security under the self-employment plan. Social security can be described as something the people have paid for and to which they are entitled under ordinary law. Money paid out in social security is not a donation or a welfare contribution. The recipient is receiving something in return for money he has paid out.

On the other hand, welfare funds represent money for which there has been no specific contribution by the recipient. Welfare funds are distributed for the purpose of preventing people from starving or being in dire want or in an extremely underprivileged situation. Welfare money represents a gift from those who have to those who do not have.

It can readily be seen that among the aged the more a person receives in social security payments the less he will require in welfare payments.

If Louisiana ranks 48th in the United States in percentage of social security payments for those past 65 it ranks at the bottom of all states in the union, since Alaska apparently was not counted, not having yet been brought completely into the social security plan.

Louisiana Welfare costs, according to PAR, may drop $8 million or more this fiscal year under previously anticipated spending. This will be true even though total welfare spending for the current fiscal year will be increased.

Old age assistance payments for an individual have gone up to $72 a month, a $4 increase. There are corresponding increases in top grants in other programs, except for aid to the needy blind, which will remain unchanged.

The anticipated $8 million drop in required state welfare funds will be brought about by higher federal appropriations, along with changes in the social security law, which will release state funds previously set aside to meet welfare costs, a smaller increase in caseload than was anticipated, and a possible reduction in planned expenditure under the new medical vendor program.

Louisiana is said to be lagging in social security coverage and this reduces the effect of social security on state welfare costs. In the year ending December 1957, Louisiana had the smallest increase of any state in the proportion of its aged population receiving social security payments.

It does not seem reasonable that Louisiana has a smaller percentage of its population than any other state making social security payments.

PAR says Louisiana is lagging behind other states with similiar population and economic characteristics in the proportion of aged persons receiving social security, with the result that it is making higher per capital welfare payments.

This indicates a lack of diligence on the part of officials responsible for seeing that Louisiana residents get their share of social security payments. Intensified efforts should be made to assure that persons who should be in the social security program do participate and thus acquire eligibility for benefits.

Labor Attacks Set

Buoyed by the results of Tuesday's election, labor unions already are mapping plans for new assaults on states' rights. Some of labors radical leaders are contending that the newly elected congress will follow labor dictates and will wreck all existing state right-to-work laws at one swoop.

One of the chief things organized labor will fight for next year is repeal of that section of the Taft-Hartley law known as 14-B, which permits states to enact right-to-work laws. These laws do not ban union shops but do ban closed shops, a labor contract provision that requires workers to join a union in order to hold their jobs. In union shops in which the closed shop provision is outlawed, workers may join the union or refuse to do so as they choose without losing their jobs.

The right of the individual states to enact laws is an inherent right and not one that should require an act of congress for authorization. So long as state laws are not in conflict with federal laws, every state is promised in the constitution that it can enact its own laws. Since congress has enacted many laws on labor—whether wrongly or rightly—the Taft-Hartley law contains a specific provision giving the states the right to enact right-to-work laws. Should this provision in the Taft-Hartley law be repealed the states would be still further deprived of their right to enact their own laws, despite the fact that no enabling act should be necessary.

Labor officials have set as their goal the control of congress and of all phases of government. James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union head has already let it be known that he wants to control every phase of transportation—by land, air and sea—so that all businesses and industries will be at his mercy.

States' rights and all rights of freedom enjoyed by the people will be endangered if the big labor bosses have their way—but they may not find that as easy as they anticipate, even with the new congress. Some congressmen heretofore known as liberals will not want to go that far.

25,000 Federal Employees Trained In Speed-Reading

Picture yourself seated before a box - like machine. You peer through two peepholes at a card containing a 10 - line paragraph. As you read it, a camera records every fluttering movement of your eyes.

A short distance away is a desk with an open book and an overhead lamp. As you read, the light moves down the page, pulling your eyes along faster and faster.

Twenty - five thousand Federal employees have gone through these experiences in Washington as part of the Government's attempt to teach its workers to read faster and more accurately in their race with the mounting pile of paperwork. Ater 10 years of mass experimentation, the question remains whether speed-reading is worth the trouble.

The answer from those who have taken the reading training is a resounding "yes." Almost without exception, the employees have improved their reading speed 74 to 80 per cent with no less of comprehension.

A more studious answer comes from Edmund Fulker, president of the Adult Reading Improvement Association, a group of reading teachers who handle the program in Washington bureas. Reviewing the 10-year history of the program he says:

1. Almost every adult with careful training, can double his reading speed, on ordinary material, and

2. Reading is one of the most neglected parts of the average person's education:

While hopes of reading faster attract most people into the training programs, Fulker insists that the real achievement is "reading efficiency." He compares normal reading to hunt-and punch typing, which can be fast but wearying, while the new technique compares to smooth touch typing.

One pioneer in speed reading was psychologist Samuel Renshaw, whose work at Ohio State University led to the aircraft recognition schools of World War II. These courses taught gunners to recognize airplane pictures flashed on a screen for a tiny fraction of a second.

Renshaw had discovered that the eye can see an object — and the mind perceive it — in much less time than anyone had thought possible. He even claimed that one student had learned to see and recall a seven - digit number flashed on a screen for a millionth of a second.

The Air Force began experiments in speed reading in 1947 when it found that top - grade officers at the Air University in Montgomery, Ala., were plodding painfully through written material. The system worked so well that it was adopted for Pentagon officers and has now spread to civilian agencies, to some industries and to many colleges.

At most agencies, each student is given a test in which his eye movements while reading are recorded on film. This record shows whether both eyes are working together and also indicates whether the reader stops to concentrate on each word or sees whole phrases at a time.

The lamp with the moving light helps to force the reader to work faster and closer to potential capability.

Most of the government employees who take the course are in the higher echelons of Civil Service and are mostly college graduates. Their normal reading speed may therefore be a little faster than average for U. S. adults, although legal phraseology of government gobbleygook slows them down.

When they enter the course, they read about 270 words a minute on ordinary magazine articles. When they're through with the standard 30-hour training, they can read about 500 words a minute with ease.

Some cases show a spectacular improvement. One man, who could read 650 words a minute before training finished at the rate of 2100 words. At that speed, he would read this article in about 20 seconds and could finish an average novel in three - quarters of an hour.

What holds most readers back? Fulker believes there are many reasons, but a major one is the fact that most people stop learning about the actual practice of reading in the sixth grade. Their reading habits are fixed at that time and, except for vocabulary improvement, remain unchanged for life.

Guilt, oddly enough, is another reason. Many people feel ashamed to skim. As a result, they devote the same slow concentration to a frothy novel that they would apply to their income tax instructions. They have not learned to adjust their reading pace to the difficulty of the text.

Fulker tells of one man, an Agricultural scientist with a master's degree from a major university, who read everything at the very slow speed of 100 words a minute. Like most of the other reading trainees, he doubled his speed in six weeks.

Oral reading by school children has been largely supplementd by silent phrase - reading drills to help students overcome the habit of moving their lips as they read. The habit persists in many adults trained under the older method however.

Cultural factors, according to Fulker, are also responsibile for much slow reading. Many boys who are taught to regard reading as sissy stuff grow up, go into business, and find their "in" baskets piling up with unread correspondence and reports.

Can anyone speed up his reading by himself? Fulker says most people can — but its much like learning touch typing alone. It requires hard work, and persistence. Classroom instruction helps speed the process.

All the government classes are voluntary, and some bureaucrats refused to be bothered. The trainees, however, have given the program a solid endorsement and the courses appear to be headed for a permanent place in the government system, as long as readers plod while paperwork mounts.

Some Atomic Airplane Programs Money-Paced

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "Some of our programs are money-paced'" admitted a General Electric spokesman on the Idaho site where the atomic airplane is being developed.

He meant that with more money from Washington being spent on a "crash program" the nuclear-powered aircraft might be speeded up. That way we could "beat the Russians" and could advance the date for the momentous experience of atomic flight.

But I am happy to report that a welcome and very rare quality called "maturity" is presiding over the birth of this stupendous achievement. The company spokesman was not "talking poor." He had said that most of the programs were technologically-paced. A fourstar Air Force General fairly sputtered when I tried him on the "psychowarfare" argument for souping up the atomic plane development. "Wars aren't won by propaganda!"

Maybe it's wrong to be nostalgic about such a thing as common sence, but its been years and years since your reporter has heard it talked so consistently. This officer was actually following the Administration line on the subject. On March 5, 1958, President Eisenhower wrote to Congressman Melvin Price, chirman of the Joint Atomic Energy Commission, in part as follows:

"...I have decided that we should first continue to go forward as rapidly as we effectively can with our development program, which at this stage places major emphasis on materials and reactor research, rather than to rush development of a first nuclear flight aircraft which would have little or no practical utility and would delay achievement of an effective military aircraft."

In this situation we have, I think, one of the unheralded but increasingly evident virtues of the Eisenhower Administration. Under the President we have become, not in all areas and not all at once, something like the "have" nation to which Americans were once so accustomed and so proud.

It is indisputable that the atomic plane would make a great weapon and that we should have it as soon as we feasibly can. But it is also true—and it may be a bigger truth—that this country has reached a state of readiness in which we can afford to do without the atomic plane for a while longer. I make this statement after some time at SAC headquarters, and some comprehensive talks with Gen. Thomas Power and his officers. I make it, having returned to Washington and attended a press conference at which Secretary Dulles virtually dusted the troublesome Formosa Strait matter off his fingertips and moved to the next task.

The one-breath mention of Gen. Power and Mr. Dulles is not arbitrary. Military force is the historical partner of power diplomacy. A nation that is confident in its strength of arms can go to the brink with some assurance that the enemy will do the backing down. Well, the Russians loosened no missiles when the Marines went into Lebanon. And the Red Chinese took such a drubbing from American-trained Nationalist pilots and from American-supplied landing craft that they reduced a fair-sized war to the petty absurdity of an every-other-day barrage on the Quemoys.

Many Things Play Part In Heart Cases

A report from New York on the chances of developing a heart attack under the age of 40 implicates heredity, the amount of fat in the diet, and the emotional stress and strain at work. The two latter factors were present in 95 per cent of the coronary cases, in contrast to 12 per cent in the controls.

Dr. Henry I. Russek and Dr. Burton L. Zohman conducted a 10 year study on 100 young adults with coronary disease. The majority had survived heart attacks due to coronary thrombosis and the rest had typical angina pectoris. Three were women. Their heredity, health habits, and mode of life were compared with 100 healthy persons of comparable ages.

In 67 per cent of the cardiac patients there was a history of heart trouble in one or both parents in contrast to 40 per cent among the control groups. On the other hand, 17 per cent of the coronary group had parents who were long lived and in good health. This demonstrates that a favorable heredity does not necessarily protect the old ticker.

In the group of coronary patients, 53 were accustomed to eating more than the average amounts of fat in the daily diet. Only 20 of the controls did the same. Prior to the onset of heart trouble, 91 were under unusual periods of stress for varying periods of time; 46 per cent had worked 60 or more hours a week and many had more than one job.

Only 26 per cent of the control group had comparable stress in relation to occupation. On the other hand, it made little difference whether the individual smoked, was fat or thin, exercised, or led a sedentary existence. The heavy smoker was the exception; there were twice as many walking chimneys among the coronary group.

The younger patients in this series usually were high - strung individuals who lived beyond their normal capacities, minimized their symptoms, and were not prudent about the rules of health.

TOO MANY REDS

H. T. writes: What symptoms are caused by polycythemia?

REPLY

In ordinary polycythemia, there is a great increase in the number of red cells and the iron content of the blood. The skin assumes a dusky hue and the hands and feet may burn. Among other symptoms are dizziness, headache, weakness, prostration, abdominal pains and hemorrhages into the skin.

Daily Devotion

Arise, lift up the lad, and hold him in thine hand; for 1 will make him a great nation. —Genesis 21:8.

Children always bring challenges and opportunities. Nearly all of us fall far short of the goals we would like to reach, but there is always the possibility of final success through our children and grand children. Because the progress of mankind is wrapped up in our youth, there should be no sacrifice too great, if necessary, to provide proper training. This applies not only to our general educational facilities but to youth training in our religious institutions and in the home.

God of the young and the old, help all of us to be students in the school of Thee and Thy Son. In His name we make our prayer. Amen.

DR. CRANE SAYS

Kindness Can Go Into Hereafter

Notice Rabbi Fox's excellent suggestion below. And don't become so fond of your new ranch style home here on earth that you forget to erect a suitable mansion for yourself in the Hereafter. If God is our Landlord on this planet, He certainly will determine our homes in the next world.

CASE Z—366: Rabbi G. George Fox recently sat beside me at a YMCA banquet at the South Shore Country Club in Chicago.

During the meal, we compared notes on the Scientific Marriage Foundation, since we are both on its Advisory Committee.

And he told me about his trip to Israel. Incidentally, Rabbi Fox teaches my Bible Class for me when I an. absent from Chicago on Sunday.

At this YMCA banquet, I happened to be scheduled for the main address and at its close, I quoted the old adage:

"What we get in this world, we leave at death; what we give away, we take with us."

Then I lauded the generosity of great souls who have contributed to moral youth organizations like the YMCA, CYO, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, etc.

For I pointed out that the finest memorial we can erect for ourselves is not a marble or granite mausoleum over our grave.

No, it is a dynamic "tomb", such as a YMCA Building, wherein a swimming pool continues benefiting youth and a gymnasium pays lasting tribute to our memories.

I concluded with Lincoln's remark that he hoped biographers could say of him that he planted roses where thistles grew before.

"God certainly loves rose planters," I added, "and you faithful sponsors of the YMCA undoubtedly are building up large spiritual assets in heaven."

RABBI FOX'S ADDITION

When I sat down, Rabbi Fox very graciously congratulated me.

"I thought you were going to end with Henry van Dyke's famous story of the old laundress." Rabbi Fox commented.

"Oh, I wish I had thought o it," I added "for it would have capped the climax beautifully."

Many of you will remember the tale. This wash woman had served as laundress for wealthy families all her life. When she finally died and went to heaven, an angel was delegated to show her to her new home.

They passed many tiny cottages and some larger residences, but the angel kept on.

At last, they reached a beautiful dwelling that looked more like a palace.

"This is your new home," the angel informed her, as she stared in disbelief.

"Surely you must be mistaken," protested the astonished laundress, "for this is the type of home for a banker or other rich man."

GOD'S ARCHITECTURE

"No, this is yours," affirmed the angel. "For up here in Heaven the size of your home depends on your good deeds performed on earth.

"Every unselfish act down here becomes a brick, so the people who lead a life of kindliness and love for their fellowmen, are the ones who merit the largest mansions up here."

This charming story may be very true. For our possessions down here cannot go with us past the grave.

We leave our automobiles and real estate, our stocks and bonds, plus our diamonds and mink coats, back here.

Only our kindnesses and evidences of unselfishness, being purely spiritual in nature, can pass on to heaven.

Don't become so enamoured of your new ranch type home here on earth that you fail to erect an adequate dwelling for yourself in the Hereafter.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Adams-Goldfine Episode Cited

THE BIG STEAL — Rep. L. H. Fountain, Dem.-N. Car., says the Adams - Goldfine episode reminds him of a medieval English quatrain which should convey a useful message to anyone concerned with ethics in government. Commenting on the manner in which the common lands were enclosed and taken over by the English nobility, a poet wrote:

"The law locks up both man
and woman
Who steals the goose from off
the common.
But lets the greater felon loose
Who steals the common from
the goose."

LOVE, HONOR AND NO OBEDIENCE — Assistant Secretary Elliot Lee Richardson of the Health, Education and Welfare Department was handed the assignment in a panel discussion of having to explain "The factors and forces in modern life that influence the character of our society in such a way as to affect the task of the Public Health profession." This, he pointed out, put him in somewhat the same position of the rural county judge who was visited one Saturday afternoon by a young GI who unexpectedly had received a 48-hour leave. Having his best girl in tow the soldier decided to make good use of the leave by getting married. The judge pointed out, however, that since the county offices were closed until Monday no marriage license could be obtained. He was sorry but the young man and his intended would have to wait. Plaintively, the boy said, "But, judge, couldn't you just say a few words to tide us over the week-end?"

WORDS OF WISDOM — Former Congressman Calvin Johnson of Illinois was a hit speaker at a recent Washington building and loan group dinner. One of Johnson's observations: "There are three kinds of politicians — the kind that can't tell a lie, the kind that can't tell the truth, and the kind that doesn't know the difference."

GONE AND SOON FORGOTTEN — Several top Federal officials received a routine inquiry from the Treasury Department the other day. Each was asked what they knew about an applicant seeking permission to practice before Treasury and its Internal Revenue Service. The officials didn't hesitate a moment to let Treasury know they thought the department was being much too formal, routine and time-wasting in this instance. The applicant: Russell C. Harrington who retired only a month ago as commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service.

A LADY TO REMEMBER — Washington will not soon forget "Miss Lucy" whose wide collection of stories about the South brought laughs whereever she went. "Miss Lucy," who just passed away, was the widow of the much - beloved Sen. Walter George of Georgia. One story "Miss Lucy" never tired of telling before Washington groups concerned her Georgia neighbor, a Mrs. Busby. Every day when Mrs. Busby would drive her cook home the cook insisted that her mistress come in and see what a fine set of children she had. Finally, Mrs. Busby agreed. "Well, Emma, you haven't exaggerated at all," Mrs. Busby said later. "They are a nice set of children." The cook replied, "Well, Miz Busby, they have a nice set of papas."

ROAD TO HAPPINESS — Cyrus Eaton, the controversial Cleveland millionaire, got his first big break when he went to work for John D. Rockefeller as a family companion. Reviewing this period of his youth in a talk before the National Press Club, Eaton recalled that the United States at that time did not have a single enemy in the world, the national debt was only slightly more than $1 billion, and there was no income tax. "Today," he said, "practically everybody in the world is mad at us, the national debt is over $280 billion, and everybody knows we have income tax. We certainly have made a lot of progress."

NO MATTER WHAT, HE'LL TALK — Shortly before the election Rep. Eugene J. McCarthy, Dem.-Minn., took time off from his campaign to unseat Republican Sen. Edward J. Thye to confer with directors of the Great Books Program. A former college professor and one of the true "egg heads" in the House, McCarthy often speaks in the books program. "If I win," he advised the directors, "some time late in December I will speak on St. Thomas Aquinas and his discourse on law. If I lose, I probably will speak on Machiavelli. If it's a tie, Ed Thye and I will discuss Zane Grey."

One of the chief things organized labor will fight for next year is repeal of that section of the Taft-Hartley law known as 14-B, which permits states to enact right-to-work laws. These laws do not ban union shops but do ban closed shops, a labor contract provision that requires workers to join a union in order to hold their jobs. In union shops in which the closed shop provision is outlawed, workers may join the union or refuse to do so as they choose without losing their jobs.

The right of the individual states to enact laws is an inherent right and not one that should require an act of congress for authorization. So long as state laws are not in conflict with federal laws, every state is promised in the constitution that it can enact its own laws. Since congress has enacted many laws on labor—whether wrongly or rightly—the Taft-Hartley law contains a specific provision giving the states the right to enact right-to-work laws. Should this provision in the Taft-Hartley law be repealed the states would be still further deprived of their right to enact their own laws, despite the fact that no enabling act should be necessary.

Labor officials have set as their goal the control of congress and of all phases of government. James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union head has already let it be known that he wants to control every phase of transportation—by land, air and sea—so that all businesses and industries will be at his mercy.

States' rights and all rights of freedom enjoyed by the people will be endangered if the big labor bosses have their way—but they may not find that as easy as they anticipate, even with the new congress. Some congressmen heretofore known as liberals will not want to go that far.

25,000 Federal Employees Trained In Speed-Reading

Picture yourself seated before a box - like machine. You peer through two peepholes at a card containing a 10 - line paragraph. As you read it, a camera records every fluttering movement of your eyes.

A short distance away is a desk with an open book and an overhead lamp. As you read, the light moves down the page, pulling your eyes along faster and faster.

Twenty - five thousand Federal employees have gone through these experiences in Washington as part of the Government's attempt to teach its workers to read faster and more accurately in their race with the mounting pile of paperwork. Ater 10 years of mass experimentation, the question remains whether speed-reading is worth the trouble.

The answer from those who have taken the reading training is a resounding "yes." Almost without exception, the employees have improved their reading speed 74 to 80 per cent with no less of comprehension.

A more studious answer comes from Edmund Fulker, president of the Adult Reading Improvement Association, a group of reading teachers who handle the program in Washington bureas. Reviewing the 10-year history of the program he says:

1. Almost every adult with careful training, can double his reading speed, on ordinary material, and

2. Reading is one of the most neglected parts of the average person's education:

While hopes of reading faster attract most people into the training programs, Fulker insists that the real achievement is "reading efficiency." He compares normal reading to hunt-and punch typing, which can be fast but wearying, while the new technique compares to smooth touch typing.

One pioneer in speed reading was psychologist Samuel Renshaw, whose work at Ohio State University led to the aircraft recognition schools of World War II. These courses taught gunners to recognize airplane pictures flashed on a screen for a tiny fraction of a second.

Renshaw had discovered that the eye can see an object — and the mind perceive it — in much less time than anyone had thought possible. He even claimed that one student had learned to see and recall a seven - digit number flashed on a screen for a millionth of a second.

The Air Force began experiments in speed reading in 1947 when it found that top - grade officers at the Air University in Montgomery, Ala., were plodding painfully through written material. The system worked so well that it was adopted for Pentagon officers and has now spread to civilian agencies, to some industries and to many colleges.

At most agencies, each student is given a test in which his eye movements while reading are recorded on film. This record shows whether both eyes are working together and also indicates whether the reader stops to concentrate on each word or sees whole phrases at a time.

The lamp with the moving light helps to force the reader to work faster and closer to potential capability.

Most of the government employees who take the course are in the higher echelons of Civil Service and are mostly college graduates. Their normal reading speed may therefore be a little faster than average for U. S. adults, although legal phraseology of government gobbleygook slows them down.

When they enter the course, they read about 270 words a minute on ordinary magazine articles. When they're through with the standard 30-hour training, they can read about 500 words a minute with ease.

Some cases show a spectacular improvement. One man, who could read 650 words a minute before training finished at the rate of 2100 words. At that speed, he would read this article in about 20 seconds and could finish an average novel in three - quarters of an hour.

What holds most readers back? Fulker believes there are many reasons, but a major one is the fact that most people stop learning about the actual practice of reading in the sixth grade. Their reading habits are fixed at that time and, except for vocabulary improvement, remain unchanged for life.

Guilt, oddly enough, is another reason. Many people feel ashamed to skim. As a result, they devote the same slow concentration to a frothy novel that they would apply to their income tax instructions. They have not learned to adjust their reading pace to the difficulty of the text.

Fulker tells of one man, an Agricultural scientist with a master's degree from a major university, who read everything at the very slow speed of 100 words a minute. Like most of the other reading trainees, he doubled his speed in six weeks.

Oral reading by school children has been largely supplementd by silent phrase - reading drills to help students overcome the habit of moving their lips as they read. The habit persists in many adults trained under the older method however.

Cultural factors, according to Fulker, are also responsibile for much slow reading. Many boys who are taught to regard reading as sissy stuff grow up, go into business, and find their "in" baskets piling up with unread correspondence and reports.

Can anyone speed up his reading by himself? Fulker says most people can — but its much like learning touch typing alone. It requires hard work, and persistence. Classroom instruction helps speed the process.

All the government classes are voluntary, and some bureaucrats refused to be bothered. The trainees, however, have given the program a solid endorsement and the courses appear to be headed for a permanent place in the government system, as long as readers plod while paperwork mounts.

Some Atomic Airplane Programs Money-Paced

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "Some of our programs are money-paced'" admitted a General Electric spokesman on the Idaho site where the atomic airplane is being developed.

He meant that with more money from Washington being spent on a "crash program" the nuclear-powered aircraft might be speeded up. That way we could "beat the Russians" and could advance the date for the momentous experience of atomic flight.

But I am happy to report that a welcome and very rare quality called "maturity" is presiding over the birth of this stupendous achievement. The company spokesman was not "talking poor." He had said that most of the programs were technologically-paced. A fourstar Air Force General fairly sputtered when I tried him on the "psychowarfare" argument for souping up the atomic plane development. "Wars aren't won by propaganda!"

Maybe it's wrong to be nostalgic about such a thing as common sence, but its been years and years since your reporter has heard it talked so consistently. This officer was actually following the Administration line on the subject. On March 5, 1958, President Eisenhower wrote to Congressman Melvin Price, chirman of the Joint Atomic Energy Commission, in part as follows:

"...I have decided that we should first continue to go forward as rapidly as we effectively can with our development program, which at this stage places major emphasis on materials and reactor research, rather than to rush development of a first nuclear flight aircraft which would have little or no practical utility and would delay achievement of an effective military aircraft."

In this situation we have, I think, one of the unheralded but increasingly evident virtues of the Eisenhower Administration. Under the President we have become, not in all areas and not all at once, something like the "have" nation to which Americans were once so accustomed and so proud.

It is indisputable that the atomic plane would make a great weapon and that we should have it as soon as we feasibly can. But it is also true—and it may be a bigger truth—that this country has reached a state of readiness in which we can afford to do without the atomic plane for a while longer. I make this statement after some time at SAC headquarters, and some comprehensive talks with Gen. Thomas Power and his officers. I make it, having returned to Washington and attended a press conference at which Secretary Dulles virtually dusted the troublesome Formosa Strait matter off his fingertips and moved to the next task.

The one-breath mention of Gen. Power and Mr. Dulles is not arbitrary. Military force is the historical partner of power diplomacy. A nation that is confident in its strength of arms can go to the brink with some assurance that the enemy will do the backing down. Well, the Russians loosened no missiles when the Marines went into Lebanon. And the Red Chinese took such a drubbing from American-trained Nationalist pilots and from American-supplied landing craft that they reduced a fair-sized war to the petty absurdity of an every-other-day barrage on the Quemoys.

Many Things Play Part In Heart Cases

A report from New York on the chances of developing a heart attack under the age of 40 implicates heredity, the amount of fat in the diet, and the emotional stress and strain at work. The two latter factors were present in 95 per cent of the coronary cases, in contrast to 12 per cent in the controls.

Dr. Henry I. Russek and Dr. Burton L. Zohman conducted a 10 year study on 100 young adults with coronary disease. The majority had survived heart attacks due to coronary thrombosis and the rest had typical angina pectoris. Three were women. Their heredity, health habits, and mode of life were compared with 100 healthy persons of comparable ages.

In 67 per cent of the cardiac patients there was a history of heart trouble in one or both parents in contrast to 40 per cent among the control groups. On the other hand, 17 per cent of the coronary group had parents who were long lived and in good health. This demonstrates that a favorable heredity does not necessarily protect the old ticker.

In the group of coronary patients, 53 were accustomed to eating more than the average amounts of fat in the daily diet. Only 20 of the controls did the same. Prior to the onset of heart trouble, 91 were under unusual periods of stress for varying periods of time; 46 per cent had worked 60 or more hours a week and many had more than one job.

Only 26 per cent of the control group had comparable stress in relation to occupation. On the other hand, it made little difference whether the individual smoked, was fat or thin, exercised, or led a sedentary existence. The heavy smoker was the exception; there were twice as many walking chimneys among the coronary group.

The younger patients in this series usually were high - strung individuals who lived beyond their normal capacities, minimized their symptoms, and were not prudent about the rules of health.

TOO MANY REDS

H. T. writes: What symptoms are caused by polycythemia?

REPLY

In ordinary polycythemia, there is a great increase in the number of red cells and the iron content of the blood. The skin assumes a dusky hue and the hands and feet may burn. Among other symptoms are dizziness, headache, weakness, prostration, abdominal pains and hemorrhages into the skin.

Today's Health Hint —

Be firm with junior but not rough and tough.

Daily Devotion

Arise, lift up the lad, and hold him in thine hand; for 1 will make him a great nation. —Genesis 21:8.

Children always bring challenges and opportunities. Nearly all of us fall far short of the goals we would like to reach, but there is always the possibility of final success through our children and grand children. Because the progress of mankind is wrapped up in our youth, there should be no sacrifice too great, if necessary, to provide proper training. This applies not only to our general educational facilities but to youth training in our religious institutions and in the home.

God of the young and the old, help all of us to be students in the school of Thee and Thy Son. In His name we make our prayer. Amen.

DR. CRANE SAYS

Kindness Can Go Into Hereafter

Notice Rabbi Fox's excellent suggestion below. And don't become so fond of your new ranch style home here on earth that you forget to erect a suitable mansion for yourself in the Hereafter. If God is our Landlord on this planet, He certainly will determine our homes in the next world.

CASE Z—366: Rabbi G. George Fox recently sat beside me at a YMCA banquet at the South Shore Country Club in Chicago.

During the meal, we compared notes on the Scientific Marriage Foundation, since we are both on its Advisory Committee.

And he told me about his trip to Israel. Incidentally, Rabbi Fox teaches my Bible Class for me when I an. absent from Chicago on Sunday.

At this YMCA banquet, I happened to be scheduled for the main address and at its close, I quoted the old adage:

"What we get in this world, we leave at death; what we give away, we take with us."

Then I lauded the generosity of great souls who have contributed to moral youth organizations like the YMCA, CYO, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, etc.

For I pointed out that the finest memorial we can erect for ourselves is not a marble or granite mausoleum over our grave.

No, it is a dynamic "tomb", such as a YMCA Building, wherein a swimming pool continues benefiting youth and a gymnasium pays lasting tribute to our memories.

I concluded with Lincoln's remark that he hoped biographers could say of him that he planted roses where thistles grew before.

"God certainly loves rose planters," I added, "and you faithful sponsors of the YMCA undoubtedly are building up large spiritual assets in heaven."

RABBI FOX'S ADDITION

When I sat down, Rabbi Fox very graciously congratulated me.

"I thought you were going to end with Henry van Dyke's famous story of the old laundress," Rabbi Fox commented.

"Oh, I wish I had thought o it," I added "for it would have capped the climax beautifully."

Many of you will remember the tale. This wash woman had served as laundress for wealthy families all her life. When she finally died and went to heaven, an angel was delegated to show her to her new home.

They passed many tiny cottages and some larger residences, but the angel kept on.

At last, they reached a beautiful dwelling that looked more like a palace.

"This is your new home," the angel informed her, as she stared in disbelief.

"Surely you must be mistaken," protested the astonished laundress, "for this is the type of home for a banker or other rich man."

GOD'S ARCHITECTURE

"No, this is yours," affirmed the angel. "For up here in Heaven the size of your home depends on your good deeds performed on earth.

"Every unselfish act down here becomes a brick, so the people who lead a life of kindliness and love for their fellowmen, are the ones who merit the largest mansions up here."

This charming story may be very true. For our possessions down here cannot go with us past the grave.

We leave our automobiles and real estate, our stocks and bonds, plus our diamonds and mink coats, back here.

Only our kindnesses and evidences of unselfishness, being purely spiritual in nature, can pass on to heaven.

Don't become so enamoured of your new ranch type home here on earth that you fail to erect an adequate dwelling for yourself in the Hereafter.

Adams-Goldfine Episode Cited

THE BIG STEAL — Rep. L. H. Fountain, Dem.-N. Car., says the Adams - Goldfine episode reminds him of a medieval English quatrain which should convey a useful message to anyone concerned with ethics in government. Commenting on the manner in which the common lands were enclosed and taken over by the English nobility, a poet wrote:

"The law locks up both man
and woman
Who steals the goose from off
the common.
But lets the greater felon loose
Who steals the common from
the goose."

LOVE, HONOR AND NO OBEDIENCE — Assistant Secretary Elliot Lee Richardson of the Health, Education and Welfare Department was handed the assignment in a panel discussion of having to explain "The factors and forces in modern life that influence the character of our society in such a way as to affect the task of the Public Health profession." This, he pointed out, put him in somewhat the same position of the rural county judge who was visited one Saturday afternoon by a young GI who unexpectedly had received a 48-hour leave. Having his best girl in tow the soldier decided to make good use of the leave by getting married. The judge pointed out, however, that since the county offices were closed until Monday no marriage license could be obtained. He was sorry but the young man and his intended would have to wait. Plaintively, the boy said, "But, judge, couldn't you just say a few words to tide us over the week-end?"

WORDS OF WISDOM — Former Congressman Calvin Johnson of Illinois was a hit speaker at a recent Washington building and loan group dinner. One of Johnson's observations: "There are three kinds of politicians — the kind that can't tell a lie, the kind that can't tell the truth, and the kind that doesn't know the difference."

GONE AND SOON FORGOTTEN — Several top Federal officials received a routine inquiry from the Treasury Department the other day. Each was asked what they knew about an applicant seeking permission to practice before Treasury and its Internal Revenue Service. The officials didn't hesitate a moment to let Treasury know they thought the department was being much too formal, routine and time-wasting in this instance. The applicant: Russell C. Harrington who retired only a month ago as commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service.

A LADY TO REMEMBER — Washington will not soon forget "Miss Lucy" whose wide collection of stories about the South brought laughs whereever she went. "Miss Lucy," who just passed away, was the widow of the much - beloved Sen. Walter George of Georgia. One story "Miss Lucy" never tired of telling before Washington groups concerned her Georgia neighbor, a Mrs. Busby. Every day when Mrs. Busby would drive her cook home the cook insisted that her mistress come in and see what a fine set of children she had. Finally, Mrs. Busby agreed. "Well, Emma, you haven't exaggerated at all," Mrs. Busby said later. "They are a nice set of children." The cook replied, "Well, Miz Busby, they have a nice set of papas."

ROAD TO HAPPINESS — Cyrus Eaton, the controversial Cleveland millionaire, got his first big break when he went to work for John D. Rockefeller as a family companion. Reviewing this period of his youth in a talk before the National Press Club, Eaton recalled that the United States at that time did not have a single enemy in the world, the national debt was only slightly more than $1 billion, and there was no income tax. "Today," he said, "practically everybody in the world is mad at us, the national debt is over $280 billion, and everybody knows we have income tax. We certainly have made a lot of progress."

NO MATTER WHAT, HE'LL TALK — Shortly before the election Rep. Eugene J. McCarthy, Dem.-Minn., took time off from his campaign to unseat Republican Sen. Edward J. Thye to confer with directors of the Great Books Program. A former college professor and one of the true "egg heads" in the House, McCarthy often speaks in the books program. "If I win," he advised the directors, "some time late in December I will speak on St. Thomas Aquinas and his discourse on law. If I lose, I probably will speak on Machiavelli. If it's a tie, Ed Thye and I will discuss Zane Grey."

Five Persons Are Injured In Two Accidents

Five persons were injured in two separate auto wrecks in West Monroe last night, both occuring within one hour.

A head on collision at about 8:45 p.m. in the 2100 block of Trenton St. sent four persons to the hospital. Injured were Dickie Getchell, 19, 111 Zepher St., West Monroe; Calvin H. Pipes, 17, Bosco, Bennie Brice, West Monroe.

Getchell suffered severe facial and head injuries and a broken collar bone. He was undergoing surgery last night. Pipes had an injured shoulder and Brice sustained facial lacerations. All were suffering from shock. None were believed to be on the critical list.

Further extent of injuries was not known last night pending observation and X-rays.

ALSO INJURED

Also injured in the Trenton St. crash was a Monroe Negro, Iades Siller, 901 Calypso, who sustained a lacerated knee cap and other cuts and bruises.

West Monroe police said the head on crash happened when a north bound 1955 Pontiac sedan, driven by Pipes, with Brice and Getchell as passengers, collided with a 1959 Chevrolet headed south driven by Siller. According to police the impact, knocked the Siller car back about 40 feet. Both cars were extensively damaged.

No charges were filed last night pending further investigation of the accident.

The other accident occurred around 8:30 p.m. on the Jonesboro highway, south of the paper mill, when Mrs. Mary Krickel, Route 1, Box 5, West Monroe, reportedly blinded by the lights on an oncoming car, ran off the road. She suffered minor cuts and bruises.

IN COMEDY HERE

Playgoers See Sylvia Sidney

By JOHN CALE
STAFF WRITER

With a scattered audience in the orchestra section, but solid rows of Monroe playgoers in the balcony at Neville auditorium, Patrick Dennis' comedy, "Auntie Mame" came to the city last night.

This was the first broadway production to play on local boards in several years.

Having reviewed the plays at Selman Field for the past two years, your writer missed the direct contact and intimacy of the smaller house.

However, the pros came through and fitted the action of "Auntie Mame" to the space and to the gaps in the audience.

The actors, too, found that the wit — and "Auntie Mame" had plenty of it —could not go over with a snap from the big Neville stage.

ADJUSTMENTS

But the necessary adjustments were made during the first half-hour of the action and the laughs became more solid.

Drawing card and title role performer for the production Sylvia Sidney, who did not need to worry about her age, nor squeezing her figure, made a favorable impression.

As Aunt of growing youngster Patrick Dennis, she went through the varying tortures of working and courting in order to remain guardian of the boy during the depression years.

Edward Spence, who took the part of the boy, drew top laudits of the evening. Through Bohemian orgies and Auntie's courtship and marriage to a Southern gentleman — in h's own lair — the youngster's affections for his aunt never wavered.

For interested Southerners it may be said here the gentleman faded from the action by tumbling from the Matterhorn in Switzerland on the couple's eighth honeymoon.

SETS AND COSTUMES

Sets, costumes and accessory characters (there were 31 listed on the program) were far better than average for a traveling company. Recall the green velvet housecoat Mame wore while "collaborating" with the Irish bard O'Brannion following the intermission.

Also the black tights and gold skirt Mame wore in the finale.

Though modern scripts seemed to demand alcohol for lubrication and profanity for spice, it must be said "Auntie Mame" maintained a freshness throughout. The cast seemed to enjoy doing the play and this carried through to the audience. In fact, Auntie Mame's wacky middle-of-the-road philosophy of life may be the best course to steer through the depression and atomic rage our generation has seen.

The Northeast Louisiana Cerebral Palsy association must be commended in bringing a fine piece of theatrical entertainment to Monroe as part of its fund-raising efforts.

Two Teenagers Are Injured In Bastrop Wreck

BASTROP (Special) — Two well-known and popular Bastrop teenagers received undetermined injuries late last night when they were struck down by a car on the city streets.

Eugene Evans, 15, son of Mrs. Red Swenson and Clinton Wright, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wright, were riding on a bicycle when injured.

Authoriaies stated that a car driven by Gordon Brown, 18, also of Bastrop, was involved in the mishap. .

Both boys were still in X-ray at 10:45 p.m. Officials at Morehouse General Hospital, where they were rushed after the mishap, said they were badly bruised.

Both youths also sustained brush burns. Other injuries were still "undetermined" until the results of the X-rays are revealed by their physician.

City police investigated the mishap.

Official Count Of Votes Set This Morning

Seals on the voting machines used in Tuesday's general election will be broken at 9 a.m. today, at the Selman Field voting machine warehouse.

Ouachita Parish Clerk of Court R. Dean Farr announced that each of the machines used at the 50 precincts in the parish will be opened.

Votes will be officially counted by an official team, and complete tabulation is expected by 3 or 4 p.m. today

The machines were returned to the warehouse Wednesday, but could not be opened until four days after the balloting.

Federal Court Civil Trial Case Postponed Here

Federal Court was postponed yesterday, when Judge Ben C. Dawkins, Jr. was unable to attend the session.

Civil trial of Pomeroy and McGowin vs. DeWitt Smith had been scheduled to begin during the morning.

Court officials stated that when a case is postponed, it generally must be carried over to the next term of court.

Monday, Judge Dawkins is expected to preside over two cases in the U. S. District Court, Western District of Louisiana, Monroe Division.

Two jury trials will be held in the courtroom of the Post Office building.

Parish School's Yearbook Given First Place Rank

Ouachita Parish High School's yearbook, The Roarer, has again copped first place in the annual yearbook contest of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association at Columbia University in New York City.

This is the third consecutive year that the annual has won this distinction.

Judges' comments were especially favorable on the opening section, photography, athletic coverage, school activity coverage, and advertising and financing.

The judges said that The Roarer contained "good pictures, pleasing design and fair coverage."

Doyle Dean was editor of the publication, with Charlene Wheeler as business manager and Raymond Gonzales as photographer.

Editorial staff members were Geraldine Cauthron, Dickie Parris, Hazel Naron, Don Mears, Marilyn Ramsey and Vernon Bagwell.

Business staff members were Daisy Young, Sandy Edwards and Annette Vought.

Mrs. Dorothy Hornbeak was sponsor for the editorial staff, and Mrs. Sara Hollingsworth advised the business staff.

Bids Accepted By City Council For New Autos

Bids for 13 new automobiles and a street project were officially accepted yesterday by the Monroe City Council.

The City Council took official steps to buy 12 Fords from Brown, River, Scogin for $27,179.76 for the Police Department.

A New Buick was purchased from Lennon Motors for $3,400 to be used by Mayor W. L.(Jack) Howard. Howard said his Edsel was being used by the Police Department because it was equipped with a two-way radio.

The city also accepted a $1,540 bid from M. L. Coats for an eight-inch cement base at the conjunction of N. 18th and DeSiard streets.

11 Area Dentists, Wives Will Attend Association Meet

Five Persons Are Injured In Two Accidents

Five persons were injured in two separate auto wrecks in West Monroe last night, both occuring within one hour.

A head on collision at about 8:45 p.m. in the 2100 block of Trenton St. sent four persons to the hospital. Injured were Dickie Getchell, 19, 111 Zepher St., West Monroe; Calvin H. Pipes, 17, Bosco, Bennie Brice, West Monroe.

Getchell suffered severe facial and head injuries and a broken collar bone. He was undergoing surgery last night. Pipes had an injured shoulder and Brice sustained facial lacerations. All were suffering from shock. None were believed to be on the critical list.

Further extent of injuries was not known last night pending observation and X-rays.

ALSO INJURED

Also injured in the Trenton St. crash was a Monroe Negro, Iades Siller, 901 Calypso, who sustained a lacerated knee cap and other cuts and bruises.

West Monroe police said the head on crash happened when a north bound 1955 Pontiac sedan, driven by Pipes, with Brice and Getchell as passengers, collided with a 1959 Chevrolet headed south driven by Siller. According to police the impact, knocked the Siller car back about 40 feet. Both cars were extensively damaged.

No charges were filed last night pending further investigation of the accident.

The other accident occurred around 8:30 p.m. on the Jonesboro highway, south of the paper mill, when Mrs. Mary Krickel, Route 1, Box 5, West Monroe, reportedly blinded by the lights on an oncoming car, ran off the road. She suffered minor cuts and bruises.

IN COMEDY HERE

Playgoers See Sylvia Sidney

By JOHN CALE
STAFF WRITER

With a scattered audience in the orchestra section, but solid rows of Monroe playgoers in the balcony at Neville auditorium, Patrick Dennis' comedy, "Auntie Mame" came to the city last night.

This was the first broadway production to play on local boards in several years.

Having reviewed the plays at Selman Field for the past two years, your writer missed the direct contact and intimacy of the smaller house.

However, the pros came through and fitted the action of "Auntie Mame" to the space and to the gaps in the audience.

The actors, too, found that the wit — and "Auntie Mame" had plenty of it —could not go over with a snap from the big Neville stage.

ADJUSTMENTS

But the necessary adjustments were made during the first half-hour of the action and the laughs became more solid.

Drawing card and title role performer for the production Sylvia Sidney, who did not need to worry about her age, nor squeezing her figure, made a favorable impression.

As Aunt of growing youngster Patrick Dennis, she went through the varying tortures of working and courting in order to remain guardian of the boy during the depression years.

Edward Spence, who took the part of the boy, drew top laudits of the evening. Through Bohemian orgies and Auntie's courtship and marriage to a Southern gentleman — in h s own lair -- the youngster's affections for his aunt never wavered.

For interested Southerners it may be said here the gentleman faded from the action by tumbling from the Matterhorn in Switzerland on the couple's eighth honeymoon.

SETS AND COSTUMES

Sets, costumes and accessory characters (there were 34 listed on the program) were far better than average for a traveling company. Recall the green velvet housecoat Mame wore while "collaborating" with the Irish bard O'Brannion following the intermission.

Also the black tights and gold skirt Mame wore in the finale.

Though modern scripts seemed to demand alcohol for lubrication and profanity for spice, it must be said "Auntie Mame" maintained a freshness throughout. The cast seemed to enjoy doing the play and this carried through to the audience. In fact, Auntie Mame's wacky middle-of-the-road philosophy of life may be the best course to steer through the depression and atomic rage our generation has seen.

The Northeast Louisiana Cerebral Palsy association must be commended in bringing a fine piece of theatrical entertainment to Monroe as part of its fund-raising efforts.

Two Teenagers Are Injured In Bastrop Wreck

BASTROP (Special) — Two well-known and popular Bastrop teenagers received undetermined injuries late last night when they were struck down by a car on the city streets.

Eugene Evans, 15, son of Mrs. Red Swenson and Clinton Wright, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wright, were riding on a bicycle when injured.

Authoriaies stated that a car driven by Gordon Brown, 18, also of Bastrop, was involved in the mishap. .

Both boys were still in X-ray at 10:45 p.m. Officials at Morehouse General Hospital, where they were rushed after the mishap, said they were badly bruised.

Both youths also sustained brush burns. Other injuries were still "undetermined" until the results of the X-rays are revealed by their physician.

City police investigated the mishap.

Official Count Of Votes Set This Morning

Seals on the voting machines used in Tuesday's general election will be broken at 9 a.m. today, at the Selman Field voting machine warehouse.

Ouachita Parish Clerk of Court R. Dean Farr announced that each of the machines used at the 50 precincts in the parish will be opened.

Votes will be officially counted by an official team, and complete tabulation is expected by 3 or 4 p.m. today

The machines were returned to the warehouse Wednesday, but could not be opened until four days after the balloting.

Federal Court Civil Trial Case Postponed Here

Federal Court was postponed yesterday, when Judge Ben C. Dawkins, Jr. was unable to attend the session.

Civil trial of Pomeroy and McGowin vs. DeWitt Smith had been scheduled to begin during the morning.

Court officials stated that when a case is postponed, it generally must be carried over to the next term of court.

Monday, Judge Dawkins is expected to preside over two cases in the U. S. District Court, Western District of Louisiana, Monroe Division.

Two jury trials will be held in the courtroom of the Post Office building.

Parish School's Yearbook Given First Place Rank

Ouachita Parish High School's yearbook, The Roarer, has again copped first place in the annual yearbook contest of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association at Columbia University in New York City.

This is the third consecutive year that the annual has won this distinction.

Judges' comments were especially favorable on the opening section, photography, athletic coverage, school activity coverage, and advertising and financing.

The judges said that The Roarer contained "good pictures, pleasing design and fair coverage."

Doyle Dean was editor of the publication, with Charlene Wheeler as business manager and Raymond Gonzales as photographer.

Editorial staff members were Geraldine Cauthron, Dickie Parris, Hazel Naron, Don Mears, Marilyn Ramsey and Vernon Bagwell.

Business staff members were Daisy Young, Sandy Edwards and Annette Vought.

Mrs. Dorothy Hornbeak was sponsor for the editorial staff, and Mrs. Sara Hollingsworth advised the business staff.

Bids Accepted By City Council For New Autos

Bids for 13 new automobiles and a street project were officially accepted yesterday by the Monroe City Council.

The City Council took official steps to buy 12 Fords from Brown, River, Scogin for $27,179.76 for the Police Department.

A New Buick was purchased from Lennon Motors for $3,400 to be used by Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard. Howard said his Edsel was being used by the Police Department because it was equipped with a two-way radio.

The city also accepted a $1,540 bid from M. L. Coats for an eight-inch cement base at the conjunction of N. 18th and DeSiard streets.

11 Area Dentists, Wives Will Attend Association Meet

Eleven local and area dentists and their wives are planning to attend the national convention of the American Dental Association in Dallas, Tex., next week.

Scheduled to make the trip are Dr. and Mrs. Rabun Smith; Dr. and Mrs. William Smith; Dr. and Mrs. Hunter Mullis; Dr. and Mrs C.P. Jarrell, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Emerson; Dr. and Mrs. Claude Earnest, and Dr. and Mrs. V.H. Reitzell, all of Monroe; Dr. and Mrs. Don Quinn and Dr. and Mrs. Claude Pratt, Bastrop, and Dr. and Mrs. Felton Green and Dr. and Mrs. Ben Baugh, Ruston.

The 6-day confab will include lectures, demonstrations, programs on operating techniques, and scientific exhibits.

The women will attend a number of social functions including a style show and luncheon at Neiman-Marcus.

About 16,000 dentists from throughout the nation will attend, along with numerous dental assistants, hygienists and technicians.

Quiz Show Producer Is Indicted By Jury

ed with our organization for several years. We have complete faith in his integrity and we are confident of his ultimate vindication."

"Twenty-One," once rated as the most popular television show in the nation, made its debut on Sept. 12, 1956, in the initial surge of interest in quiz programs. It bowed out last Oct. 16 after being plagued by dwindling ratings and the "fix" charges.

Top winners on the program included Elfrida von Nardroff, who received $223,000, and Charles Van Doren, who answered $129,000 worth of questions. They and many other winners denied they ever were fed answers.

Barry, master of ceremonies of the program, and co-producer Enright both denied all charges made against the quiz show.

The district attorney began an inquiry after Edward Hilgemeir Jr., a former contestant on the (CBS) "Dotto" show claimed that program was fixed.

"Twenty - One" came under fire from Herbert Stempel, who had piled up $60,000 in winnings, before losing to Van Doren. Stempel charged that he had been fed answers and then had lost to his successor by pre-arrangement.

The investigation signalled the demise of the giant jackpot shows. The sponsor of "Dotto" dropped the show. "Twenty - One" got the ax Oct. 16. "The $64,000 Challenge" also fell by the wayside, and last Tuesday, "The $64,000 Question," which launched the TV quiz show craze more than three years ago, also went off the air.

Lunch Report At Session Is Said Unlikely

lunch) program. I can take no other course. I would be opposed to any action to take the lunch funds away from the school children of the state."

Commissioner of administration James S. Reily last August asked the education board to give up the four million.

The board refused to do so in its Sept. 9 resolution. It directed Jackson in that resolution to go ahead with distribution of the remaining million dollars involved.

Jackson had withheld the money from school boards pending a fiscal investigation by Reily and J. B. Lancaster, state supervisor of public funds, who had acted after a legislative committee began a probe of the entire school lunch program policy.

The board, in refusing Reily's request, said his proposal would "amount to usurpation by the commissioner of the prerogatives of the Legislature to make appropriations for specific purposes."

Since there are strong indications the special session bills have not been drafted, there is no concerted evidence what the school lunch program will be when introduced.

Report Molotov Made Speech In Mongolian City

TOKYO (UPI) —Former Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who was ousted from the Kremlin hierarchy in a power struggle with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, spoke at October Revolution ceremonies in the Mongolian capital of Ulan Bator Thursday night, the Communist New China News Agency eported Friday.

Molotov, an old - line Stalinist, was sent to Ulan Bator as ambassador after his purge. There had been unofficial reports in recent weeks that he was in Moscow for undisclosed reasons.

Middleton Will Remain At LSU

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Lt. Gen. Troy H. Middleton, scheduled for retirement as president of Louisiana State University next summer, agreed Friday to remain indefinitely.

Chairman Theo Cangelosi said the 69-year-old LSU president had agreed to stay at the request of the LSU Board of Supervisors. Previously, Middleton asked to be retired by June 30, 1959.

Meeting as committee of the whole, the board also made a urgent request to Gov. Earl Long to include LSU in the call for the special legislative session next Tuesday.

The resolution cited $1,539,150 cuts in operating funds by the 1958 Legislature and the "critical need for funds for a building program at LSU in New Orleans, the LSU medical school and LSU in Baton Rouge."

Middleton, an erect, gray West Pointer, came to LSU in 1930 as commandant of cadets. He served as dean of men and comptroller before moving up to the presidency in 1950.

During World War II, he returned to the Army. As commander of the Eighth Corps, he gave the critical command to hold Bastogne in the Battle of the Bulge.

State Music Meet Enters Second Day

Equal emphasis in performance and discussion is being underscored at the three-day meeting of the Louisiana Music Teachers Association on the Northeast State campus. "Teachers hear as much performance as anything else," the convention chairman, Willis Ducrest of Southwestern Louisiana Institute said.

Approximately one hundred persons are attending the seventh annual session which is being held at Northeast State under chairmanship of Fine Arts Dean Harry M. Lemert.

The meeting will end today with a post-convention workshop from 2 to 4 p.m. for piano teachers and students under direction of Mrs. Lucille Snyder Soule of Newcomb College. Attendance does not require membership in the LMTA.

Preceding the workshop will be a business meeting in the Fine Arts Recital Hall, followed by a luncheon in the Student Center. Edward J. Hermann, coordinator of music and art, Louisiana Department of Education, will address the group on "The Music Teacher and Public Relations."

Friday's program was devoted to general sessions and sectional meetings chairmaned by music teachers throughout the state. Speaking at the first general session was Dr. E. William Doty, fine arts dean at the University of Texas. Doty, who also is president of the National Association of Schools of Music, emphasized music in performance and its relationships to general and professional education.

Discussions at the various meetings were augmented by performances of music students from the various colleges and universities in Louisiana. Featured yesterday afternoon were performed numbers written by composers living in this state.

The Northeast State Concert Band was directed by Joe Barry Mullins as a specialty in last night's program. The preceding night's feature was a concert by the New York Trio, presented under auspices of the arts program, Association of American Colleges and the Coolidge Foundation in the Library of Congress.

NEGRO SHOOTS SELF

LOGANSPORT (UPI)—A Negro hunter shot himself in a freak accident near here Thursday.

Henry Green shot a squirrel, propped his shotgun against a tree, and went after the game. Climbing back down, he caught the trigger of the gun with his toe, and caughtt he blast in the side. He was hospitalized in serious condition.

44-Year-Old La. Refinery Will Close

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — American Oil Co., announced Tuesday the closing of its 44-year-old Destrehan, La., refinery.

Winston S. Peeler, vice president in charge of manufacturing, said closing operations would begin immediately, and would be complete shortly after the end of the year.

Refinery manager H. A. Heiss said benefits estimated at more than one million dollars would be distributed to the 470 employes affected by the closure.

Some employes, Heiss said, will be transferred to other locations.

"For those whom we cannot transfer," he said, "we will do everything we can to place them in other industries here in the New Orleans area."

The company blamed economic and technological reasons for the move. The Destrehan refinery, Peeler said, had to close because the company has unused capacity and more modern facilities at other locations.

"A decision such as this," Peeler said, "is not made lightly. It was reached only after careful examination of all the factors involved. Closing Destrehan is a regrettable but necessary step the company must take to stay healthy in the face of keen competition."

Peeler said every alternative to closing the plant was carefully studied, among them "mothballing" some of the refinery's facilities until the economic situation changed. Another proposal, he said, was to convert the refinery into an asphalt plant.

All such moves, he said, were found to be "economically unsound."

The Destrehan refinery was established in 1914 by the Mexican Petroleum Co., as a facility to process Mexican crude into fuel oils and asphalt.

Twenty Men Saved From Icy Island

radioed word from the party that the island was breaking apart, an "air cover" was organized. From Thule, a KC97 transport, a WB50 weather reconaissance plane and a C54 transport were assigned to fly above the island constantly, until the rescue plane could remove the party.

Two C123s were flown to Thule from Harmon Air Force Base, Nfld., one to make the rescue attempt, the other as a spare plane.

Back at the huge Strategic Air Command airdrome in Thule, warm houses, plenty of hot food and a quiet place to sleep—on solid ground—were ready for the weary and worried party.

Air Force headquarters spokesmen here said Friday night they did not know details of plans for getting the Air Force members and civilian scientists back to the United States or to home bases in Alaska.

Demo Chief Butler Also Under Fire

Friday he had not meant to read anybody out of the party. "We want everybody we can possibly get," he said.

He was asked whether the Democrats could win in 1960 without Southern support. His reply was that Harry Truman won the presidency in 1948 without the electoral vote of four Southern states as well as New York.

On Dec. 4 and 5 the Democrats' Convention Site Committee will hear bids from Miami Beach, New York, Atlantic City, Philadelphia, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco for the 1960 national convention.

and 3 at a site other than the usual Soviet atomic proving grounds north of the Arctic Circle. The Atomic Energy Commission described them as small blasts.

Dulles said the Russians must have wanted to keep the test shots undetected or perhaps needed a new site for a different type of blast.

Even if the United States resumes testing, he said, he expects the Geneva talks to go on.

Dulles said there was no legal responsibility on the part of Russia to refrain from testing. But he said that if Russia continues testing it will be held responsible for any consequences, including any U.S.-British decision to follow suit.

Dulles said Russia was given an opportunity to explain why the tests were held, but apparently did not care to offer an explanation.

U.S., Britain Will Continue A-Suspensions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower announced Friday that Russia has exploded two nuclear weapons since East-West test ban negotiations started Oct. 31. But he said this country and Britain will continue their test suspension for the time being.

"The United States will be obliged to reconsider its position" unless the Russians call off further tests. He said their action relieves this country from any obligation to refrain from testing.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the Soviet tests were of relatively small yield and were staged Nov. 1 and Nov. 3 at a southern Russia test site. The AEC previously had reported 14 explosions at the main Soviet test site north of the Arctic Circle.

NEGOTIATIONS

The announcement came amid reports from Geneva that a virtual deadlock had developed in the week-old Big Three negotiations there for a test ban.

Russia has insisted on an immediate test ban "forever" without waiting for any control or inspection system to guard against violations. The United States and Britain want to limit any suspension to one year. Further renewals would hinge on progress in working out a control and inspection system.

Disclosure of the new Russian tests further dampened hopes of diplomatic authorities here who already were pessimistic about reaching any agreement in view of Russia's refusal to accept the British - American suspension offer effective Oct. 31.

Eisenhower, in Friday's statement, recalled that he had proposed last Aug. 22 that the East and West halt tests for a year from the day negotiations for a permanent ban got under way.

Britain agreed. But the Russians claimed the right to continue testing until they had exploded as many weapons as the United States and United Kingdom had fired since the last Soviet test series ended March 22.

The Russians resumed testing Sept. 30, after their unilateral six months suspension, and have not yet stopped. However, they agreed to join the United States and Britain in the Geneva negotiations which began Oct. 31.

Opening

December 5 is opening date for the second show of the season presented by the Monroe Little Theatre. It is designated as "Bus Stop." This show made a great hit on Broadway, when Kim Stanley and Marilyn Monroe were in leading roles.

Director I. Uttal has picked his cast with care and the members are engaged nightly in rehearsals.

Those who comprise the cast are as follows:

Ed Anders as Carl; June Swayze as Grace; M. D. Swayze, as Virgil; Charlene Correro as Elma; Bobby Strickland as Cherrie; Doug Hendon as Bo; William O. Smith as Dr. Lyman and Roger Reno as Will.

The outlook is for the presentation of quite likely the best play of the current season at the local playhouse.

New

The Twin Cities and others in South Arkansas and North Louisiana on Friday had opportunity to hear TV programs starting from the new El Dorado station at 7 a.m.

For many weeks brief information has been passed out about this new station which has its tower and transmitting equipment 25 miles distant from the El Dorado headquarters. The tower is a quarter of a mile aloft.

Quiz Show Producer Is Indicted By Jury

ed with our organization for several years. We have complete faith in his integrity and we are confident of his ultimate vindication."

"Twenty-One," once rated as the most popular television show in the nation, made its debut on Sept. 12, 1956, in the initial surge of interest in quiz programs. It bowed out last Oct. 16 after being plagued by dwindling ratings and the "fix" charges.

Top winners on the program included Elfrida von Nardroff, who received $223,000, and Charles Van Doren, who answered $129,000 worth of questions. They and many other winners denied they ever were fed answers.

Barry, master of ceremonies of the program, and co-producer Enright both denied all charges made against the quiz show.

The district attorney began an inquiry after Edward Hilgemeir Jr., a former contestant on the (CBS) "Dotto" show claimed that program was fixed.

"Twenty - One" came under fire from Herbert Stempel, who had piled up $60,000 in winnings, before losing to Van Doren. Stempel charged that he had been fed answers and then had lost to his successor by pre-arrangement.

The investigation signalled the demise of the giant jackpot shows. The sponsor of "Dotto" dropped the show. "Twenty - One" got the ax Oct. 16. "The $64,000 Challenge" also fell by the wayside, and last Tuesday, "The $64,000 Question," which launched the TV quiz show craze more than three years ago, also went off the air.

lunch) program. I can take no other course. I would be opposed to any action to take the lunch funds away from the school children of the state."

Commissioner of administration James S. Reily last August asked the education board to give up the four million.

The board refused to do so in its Sept. 9 resolution. It directed Jackson in that resolution to go ahead with distribution of the remaining million dollars involved.

Jackson had withheld the money from school boards pending a fiscal investigation by Reily and J. B. Lancaster, state supervisor of public funds, who had acted after a legislative committee began a probe of the entire school lunch program policy.

The board, in refusing Reily's request, said his proposal would "amount to usurpation by the commissioner of the prerogatives of the Legislature to make appropriations for specific purposes."

Since there are strong indications the special session bills have not been drafted, there is no concerted evidence what the school lunch program will be when introduced.

Report Molotov Made Speech In Mongolian City

TOKYO (UPI)—Former Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who was ousted from the Kremlin hierarchy in a power struggle with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, spoke at October Revolution ceremonies in the Mongolian capital of Ulan Bator Thursday night, the Communist New China News Agency eported Friday.

Molotov, an old - line Stalinist, was sent to Ulan Bator as ambassador after his purge. There had been unofficial reports in recent weeks that he was in Moscow for undisclosed reasons.

Middleton Will Remain At LSU

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Lt. Gen. Troy H. Middleton, scheduled for retirement as president of Louisiana State University next summer, agreed Friday to remain indefinitely.

Chairman Theo Cangelosi said the 69-year-old LSU president had agreed to stay at the request of the LSU Board of Supervisors. Previously, Middleton asked to be retired by June 30, 1959.

Meeting as committee of the whole, the board also made a urgent request to Gov. Earl Long to include LSU in the call for the special legislative session next Tuesday.

The resolution cited $1,539,150 cuts in operating funds by the 1958 Legislature and the "critical need for funds for a building program at LSU in New Orleans, the LSU medical school and LSU in Baton Rouge."

Middleton, an erect, gray West Pointer, came to LSU in 1930 as commandant of cadets. He served as dean of men and comptroller before moving up to the presidency in 1950.

During World War II, he returned to the Army. As commander of the Eighth Corps, he gave the critical command to hold Bastogne in the Battle of the Bulge.

44-Year-Old La. Refinery Will Close

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — American Oil Co., announced Tuesday the closing of its 44-year-old Destrehan, La., refinery.

Winston S. Peeler, vice president in charge of manufacturing, said closing operations would begin immediately, and would be complete shortly after the end of the year.

Refinery manager H. A. Heiss said benefits estimated at more than one million dollars would be distributed to the 470 employes affected by the closure.

Some employes, Heiss said, will be transferred to other locations.

"For those whom we cannot transfer," he said, "we will do everything we can to place them in other industries here in the New Orleans area."

The company blamed economic and technological reasons for the move. The Destrehan refinery, Peeler said, had to close because the company has unused capacity and more modern facilities at other locations.

"A decision such as this," Peeler said, "is not made lightly. It was reached only after careful examination of all the factors involved. Closing Destrehan is a regrettable but necessary step the company must take to stay healthy in the face of keen competition."

Peeler said every alternative to closing the plant was carefully studied, among them "mothballing" some of the refinery's facilities until the economic situation changed. Another proposal, he said, was to convert the refinery into an asphalt plant.

All such moves, he said, were found to be "economically unsound."

The Destrehan refinery was established in 1914 by the Mexican Petroleum Co., as a facility to process Mexican crude into fuel oils and asphalt.

radioed word from the party that the island was breaking apart, an "air cover" was organized. From Thule, a KC97 transport, a WB50 weather reconaissance plane and a C54 transport were assigned to fly above the island constantly, until the rescue plane could remove the party.

Two C123s were flown to Thule from Harmon Air Force Base, Nfld., one to make the rescue attempt, the other as a spare plane.

Back at the huge Strategic Air Command airdrome in Thule, warm houses, plenty of hot food and a quiet place to sleep—on solid ground—were ready for the weary and worried party.

Air Force headquarters spokesmen here said Friday night they did not know details of plans for getting the Air Force members and civilian scientists back to the United States or to home bases in Alaska.

State Music Meet Enters Second Day

Equal emphasis in performance and discussion is being underscored at the three-day meeting of the Louisiana Music Teachers Association on the Northeast State campus. "Teachers hear as much performance as anything else," the convention chairman, Willis Ducrest of Southwestern Louisiana Institute said.

Approximately one hundred persons are attending the seventh annual session which is being held at Northeast State under chairmanship of Fine Arts Dean Harry M. Lemert.

The meeting will end today with a post-convention workshop from 2 to 4 p.m. for piano teachers and students under direction of Mrs. Lucille Snyder Soule of Newcomb College. Attendance does not require membership in the LMTA.

Preceding the workshop will be a business meeting in the Fine Arts Recital Hall, followed by a luncheon in the Student Center. Edward J. Hermann, coordinator of music and art, Louisiana Department of Education, will address the group on "The Music Teacher and Public Relations."

Friday's program was devoted to general sessions and sectional meetings chairmaned by music teachers throughout the state. Speaking at the first general session was Dr. E. William Doty, fine arts dean at the University of Texas. Doty, who also is president of the National Association of Schools of Music, emphasized music in performance and its relationships to general and professional education.

Discussions at the various meetings were augmented by performances of music students from the various colleges and universities in Louisiana. Featured yesterday afternoon were performed numbers written by composers living in this state.

The Northeast State Concert Band was directed by Joe Barry Mullins as a specialty in last night's program. The preceding night's feature was a concert by the New York Trio, presented under auspices of the arts program, Association of American Colleges and the Coolidge Foundation in the Library of Congress.

WOOL LETTER

Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch Pierce, Fenner & Smith

Futures were very active again yesterday, and after opening modestly higher on a carry through of commission house buying, turned erratic with some commission house profit taking and new hedge selling pressuring the market.

When London futures continued to remain firm our market rallied on a wave of commission house buying and thereafter held in a narrow range around the previous closing levels.

There was sporadic trade short covering throughout the day but in general trade interests were on the selling side. Several private advices overseas anticipate firmer prices at the Australian auctions next week.

London futures in moderately active trading advanced a penny or more, closing near their highs for the day with a fair amount of actuals business reported.

There appeared to be some interest in selling New York vs. the purchase of London futures. There were no auctions held in Australia yesterday and South Africa reported steady prices.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futres closed 20 cents a bale lower to 15 cents higher Friday.

The market was quiet and traders awaited the government cotton crop report due Monday.

Liquidation and hedging held current crop deliveries in check but distant months were steady on local buying.

Another private survey placed the 1958 crop at 12,093,000 bales. The average guess of 57 members of the New York Cotton Exchange was 11,864,000 bales wihle the range of recent private estimates was 11,800,000 to 12,200,000 bales.

A month ago the Department of Agriculture estimated the crop at 11,675,000 bales but improved weather in October led to higher trade estimates.

TICKER TAPE HIGHLIGHTS

PRICES SETTLE

Yesterday the market moved sidewise and prices settled on week-end profit taking. Better groups included the drugs with Parke Davis up two and a quarter and Warner Lambert ahead one and a half. Papers were better with International at a new high, up one and seven-eighths.

CHEMICALS

Chemicals were mixed but favored gains with Allied up one and seven-eighths and Dupont ahead one while National Lead slipped one and a half. Tobaccos showed little movement while coppers were mixed by minimum fractions. Steels generally lost fractions to one and a half in National.

AIRCRAFTS

Aircrafts were off fractions to one and three-eighths in Boeing. Oils favored fractional losses with Texas Co., up Thursday, off two and an eighth while Amerada slipped one and five-eighths. Aluminums favored fractional losses with Alcoa off one and three-eighths. Electronics lost fractions with Raytheon off one and a half and IBM down three and a half.

MOTORS

Motors were fractionally mixed with Ford up a half, Chrysler off a half and GM, ex dividend, off three-eighths. Rubbers were mixed with Goodrich up one and a half while Goodyear lost one and a quarter. Rails favored fractional losses as B and O dipped one and a half. L and N lost one and a quarter while Delaware and Hudson gained one.

AVERAGES

The industrials up 64 cents at 11 a.m. after an 11 cent dividend clip, turned red in the closing period, off 59 cents at 554.26. The rails, down 13 cents at noon, were off 71 cents at the 151.80 close. Utilities were off nine cents at 11 a.m. and drifted lower, down 31 cents at 84.05.

COTTON LETTER

Courtesy of Merrill, Lynch Pierce, Fenner & Smith

Futures continued to hold in a narrow range with Clayton buying a few Decembers and showing a willingness to sell new Decembers.

Trade hedge selling was just about offset by scattered mill buying. Members of the New York Cotton Exchange estimated that the Nov. 1 cotton crop would be 11,864,000 while members of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange estimated it at 12,093,500.

Unfixed call sales as of Oct. 31 increased about 1500 bales and currently totals 157,600, compared with 574,900 a year ago.

LIVFSTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — The butcher hog supply was sold out early Friday at prices 25 to 50 cents higher than Thursday with all buying interests active in the trade. Most of the advance was paid for weights over 220 lbs.

The top went to $19.40, up 15 cents from Thursday's high. The No. 1 grade scaling 190-215 lbs brought $19.25-19.40 and the mixed 1s and 2s $19-19.25. The 190-240 lb mixed 1-3 grades cleared at $18.50-19, heavier weights at $18-18.50.

Sows sold at $15.75-17.50 with offerings scarce and prices steady to 25 cents higher.

The supply of slaughter steers and heifers was too meager to test prices and no sales were reported. Vealers and bulls went at steady prices. Bulls were $22.50-24 for utility and commercial grades, vealers $30-34 for good to choice and $20-30 for utility and standard.

The sheep market was steady with a few good and choice wooled lambs going at $21.50-22.50 and cull to good ewes at $6-7.50.

WOOL LETTER

Futures were very active again yesterday, and after opening modestly higher on a carry through of commission house buying, turned erratic with some commission house profit taking and new hedge selling pressuring the market.

When London futures continued to remain firm our market rallied on a wave of commission house buying and thereafter held in a narrow range around the previous closing levels.

There was sporadic trade short covering throughout the day but in general trade interests were on the selling side. Several private advices overseas anticipate firmer prices at the Australian auctions next week.

London futures in moderately active trading advanced a penny or more, closing near their highs for the day with a fair amount of actuals business reported.

There appeared to be some interest in selling New York vs. the purchase of London futures. There were no auctions held in Australia yesterday and South Africa reported steady prices.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futres closed 20 cents a bale lower to 15 cents higher Friday.

The market was quiet and traders awaited the government cotton crop report due Monday.

Liquidation and hedging held current crop deliveries in check but distant months were steady on local buying.

Another private survey placed the 1958 crop at 12,093,000 bales. The average guess of 57 members of the New York Cotton Exchange was 11,864,000 bales wihle the range of recent private estimates was 11,800,000 to 12,200,000 bales.

A month ago the Department of Agriculture estimated the crop at 11,675,000 bales but improved weather in October led to higher trade estimates.

Futures continued to hold in a narrow range with Clayton buying a few Decembers and showing a willingness to sell new Decembers.

Trade hedge selling was just about offset by scattered mill buying. Members of the New York Cotton Exchange estimated that the Nov. 1 cotton crop would be 11,864,000 while members of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange estimated it at 12,093,500.

Unfixed call sales as of Oct. 31 increased about 1500 bales and currently totals 157,600, compared with 574,900 a year ago.

LIVFSTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — The butcher hog supply was sold out early Friday at prices 25 to 50 cents higher than Thursday with all buying interests active in the trade. Most of the advance was paid for weights over 220 lbs.

The top went to $19.40, up 15 cents from Thursday's high. The No. 1 grade scaling 190-215 lbs brought $19.25-19.40 and the mixed 1s and 2s $19-19.25. The 190-240 lb mixed 1-3 grades cleared at $18.50-19, heavier weights at $18-18.50.

Sows sold at $15.75-17.50 with offerings scarce and prices steady to 25 cents higher.

The supply of slaughter steers and heifers was too meager to test prices and no sales were reported. Vealers and bulls went at steady prices. Bulls were $22.50-24 for utility and commercial grades, vealers $30-34 for good to choice and $20-30 for utility and standard.

The sheep market was steady with a few good and choice wooled lambs going at $21.50-22.50 and cull to good ewes at $6-7.50.

Tulane Edges Alabama For First SEC Victory, 13 To 6

By ED TUNSTALL

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane's running game punctured Alabama's leathery defense for two touchdowns Friday night and squelched a final minute threat to beat the Crimson Tide 13-7 before 34,000 fans.

Tulane pushed touchdowns across in the first and third periods, but had to stop Alabama on the Green Wave's 8 to salvage the victory.

Quarterback Richie Petitbon and reserve fullback Eddie Dunn pushed Tulane to its first quarter touchdown.

Center Neal Jones recovered a fumble on the Alabama 29 and eight plays later Dunn boomed over center for the score. Howard Kisner's conversion attempt failed.

A bad punt by the usually reliable Alabama quarterback Gary O'Steen led to Tulane's winning score. His punt travelled only one yard after he juggled a snap from center. In two plays, Tulane had the touchdown with Dunn going 23 yards on a line smash and Petitbon sneaking over from the one to score after a 15 yard penalty against Alabama.

Quarterback Bobby Jackson powered Alabama to its touchdown. The Tide rolled 73 yards in 11 plays with Jackson accounting for 55 yards. Jackson bulled over from the one to cap the drive and fullback Fred Sington booted the conversion.

Alabama drove deep into Tulane territory in the final minutes with reserve quarterback Bobby Smith directing the attack. But Tulane held and took over on downs seconds before the game ended.

Driskill Leading All-Star Nominee

LAKE CHARLES (UPI) — Joe Driskill, a senior end at Northeast State College at Monroe, La., is the Gulf States Conference's leading all-America candidate.

Driskill was nominated by coaches of the six colleges in the conference.

Driskill has caught nine passes for 235 yards and two touchdowns. On defense, he has been the mainstay of the Northeast line, and is credited with the majority of tackles, blocking two punts and recovering three fumbles.

Trailing Driskill in the poll were backs Charley Tolar of Northwestern and Everett Reynolds of Northeast.

Tolar, a 5-foot-7, 190-pound fullback, leads the conference in scoring and ball carrying with 461 yards in 46 carries and 46 points. He's caught five passes for 30 yards, punted eight times for a 27.6 yard average, returned five punts for 136 yards, and returned four kickoffs 61 yards.

Reynolds, a senior at Northeast, has gained 114 yards in 37 carries, completed 23 of 35 passes for 435 yards and seven touchdowns, and has a 37-yard average punting. He has returned three punts for 65 yards and three kickoffs for 74 yards.

Fair Park Cops Title With 13-7 Decision Over Rebels

By JIM CALHOUN

The Fair Park Indians, behind the power running of halfbacks Lonnie Harper and Paul LaBenne, dumped West Monroe's Rebels, 13-7, to clinch at least a tie in the torid 1-AAA District race.

The Indians displayed a formidable defense in stopping the Rebs' explosive halfback, Jerry Stovall, and that was the story. Stovall, consistently the team's top ground-gainer, was held to 35 yards in 12 carries.

Fair Park scored with two minutes gone in the second quarter on a 19-yard jaunt by LaBenne and wrapped it up on a one-yard plunge by Harper in the third period.

The game opened as a defensive battle of punts with neither team able to cross mid-field in the opening stanza. In the waning seconds of the first quarter the Indians downed a 46-yard punt by triple-threat Stovall on their own 41. Then Fair Park began its march. Quarterback Danny Fairley hit glue-fingered end Jerry Burton with a 19-yard pass and Harper broke loose for 24 more yards.

With the ball on the Rebel 19, LaBenne took a handoff from Harper on a double reverse and twisted his way past a host of West Monroe tacklers for the score. LaBenne was hit three times but the Rebs were unable to bring the swivel-hipped back down.

Burton, after his first attempt for the conversion was nullified on a penalty, split the uprights on the second try to make it 7-0.

The Indians drove to the West Monroe 17 just before the half ended but a 15-yard penalty stopped the march. Fairley hit fullback Robert McGlothlin on an aerial to the one-yard line but the play was called back because of an illegal receiver downfield and the Rebs took over.

STATISTICS

| | West Monroe | Fair Park |
|---|---|---|
| First downs | 4 | 9 |
| Yards rushing | 73 | 161 |

| Punting | 4-42 | 5-36 |

Fair Park scored its winning marker with 34 seconds remaining in the third period. Fairley tossed a long pass to Burton again from the 44 and the fleet Indian end pulled the pigskin in on the 13 and powered on down to the 3. Burton's kick was no good.

The Rebs came back with the following kickoff to narrow the margin. Stovall took the kick on his 18 and churned his way to the 34. Halfback John Moses gained one and a penalty set the ball back to the thirty. Quarterback Tommy Lolley then faded back and spiraled a long toss downfield. Fullback Dwain Johnston, streaking down the middle gathered it in on the Indian 35 and out-distanced the secondary for the touchdown.

Stovall booted the extra point 46 seconds deep in the last quarter.

Led by LaBenne, the Indians battled back and drove in eleven plays to the West Monroe two after the kickoff. Fine defensive play by Lolley and senior tackle Glenn Murphy halted the drive.

Quarterback Ronnie Farmer came in with one minute left in the game and attempted three passes for the Rebels but the charging Fair Park line crashed through to spoil his aim and they fell incomplete.

LaBenne led the Indian offense with 84 yards in 14 carries and Harper had 55 in 15 tries. Moses' 37 yards rushing topped the Rebs.

Guard Harold Johnson and Burton stood out in the Fair Park defensive effort. Tackles Jimmy Bell and Robert Cannon turned in a fine game defensively for West Monroe.

1-AAA GAME

Bossier Humbles Ouachita, 34-14

BOSSIER CITY, La. (Special) — Henry Brown scored four touchdowns to take over the district scoring lead and pace Bossier's Bearcats to a 34-14 victory over Ouachita here last night in an 1-AAA game.

The Bossier star racked up 143 yards rushing in 11 carries to lead the Bossier ball carriers. He scored the first touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Don Vallery. Bobby Kile kicked the extra point. Brown scored his second TD of the second period on a 12-yard rush off tackle and Bossier led, 13-0, at the end of the first.

STATISTICS

| | Bossier | Ouachita |
|---|---|---|
| First downs | 14 | 7 |

| Fumbles lost | 2 | 3 |
| Penalties | 5-55 | 6-70 |
| Punting | 3-20 | 5-23 |

Brown went eight yards in the second for another score and Kile booted the point again. Ouachita tallied with 1:20 left in the half when tackle Harold Moore picked a fumble out of the air on the Ouachita 14 and went 86 yards for the touchdown. Rex Carter passed to Tommy Crowe for the extra point.

Brown raced 69 yards in the third for another Bossier touchdown and Kile went seven yards later in the period for another touchdown.

With four minutes left in the game, Ouachita's Carter connected with Fred Becton for 15 yards and the second Ouachita touchdown. Bobby Hendrix booted the point.

The win left Bossier at 7-1-1 for the year and 3-1-0 in district 1-AAA play. Ouachita is now 4-6 and 2-3 in the district.

CROWVILLE IN UPSET

CROWVILLE (Special) — Crowville's inspired Bulldogs scored a third period touchdown and then gave up a safety to upset Waterproof, 6-2, here last night to take the lead in District 3-B.

A fired-up Crowville line and fast backfield enabled the Bulldogs to send Waterproof to its second defeat of the season and its first in conference play.

The victory sent the Bulldogs out in front in 3-B ball and a clash next Friday with Wisner could mean the championship for Crowville.

The Bulldogs fought Waterproof to a scoreless tie at the end of the first half and then came back in the third period to score the only touchdown of the night.

A 75-yard drive was climaxed from the five when fullback Truman Johnson bulled his way across into the end zone.

Late in the fourth period, with only 30 seconds left to go, Waterproof had Crowville on the Bulldogs' five. The Bulldogs had held Waterproof on downs.

Taking no chances of letting Waterproof score to tie up the ball game, quarterback James Arnold for Crowville dropped back into the end zone and deliberately fell down, giving Waterproof the two-point safety.

It was Crowville's fifth win of the season against four defeats. Waterproof now has a 7-2 record.

RAYVILLE, 27-21

FARMERVILLE, La. (Special) —Rayville edged Farmerville, 27-21, here last night in a non-district meeting of class A teams.

A Farmerville fumble set up Rayville's first touchdown, a four-yard rush by Paul Hunter. Stewart Dyer passed to Basil Doles for the PAT.

Farmerville came back with a 72-yard march climaxed by Mickey Strother's one-yard plunge for a touchdown. Clayton Brashier ran for the PAT. Stewart Dyer went six yards for a Rayville touchdown in the second period to make the score 13-7 at halftime.

Hunter scored in the third for Rayville on a 4-yard run and Billy Miller kicked the PAT. Brashier came back to score for the Farmers from the one after setting the TD up with a 45-yard run. Brashier ran the PAT.

Dyer passed to Hunter for another Rayville touchdown, also set up by a fumble. Miller booted the point. Brashier sprinted 58 yards for the final Farmerville touchdown and Strother ran for the PAT.

WINNFIELD, JENA TIE

JENA (Special) — Winnfield's Tigers came from behind here last night in the final quarter to tie Jena, 12-12.

A 70-yard drive late in the fourth quarter enable the Tigers to bounce back from a 12-6 lead and tie the ball game. Fullback Tommy Latham scored the crucial touchdown from the one.

Fullback Carlee Manchester again scored all of Jena's points, hitting paydirt once on a 66-yard punt return and again from the one.

Manchester took a handoff from Ronnie Hester on the punt return to go all the way in the first quarter.

In the second period, right halfback H. F. Allbritton scored from the one after a 71-yard drive. The third period went scoreless.

Manchester scored in the third after a 90-yard drive which featured a sparkling run by end Ronnie Hester. Hester, an end, caught a pass from Ronnie Thomas.

But Hester was caught in a pocket of Winnfield players, reversed his field, ran the entire width of the gridiron and danced away before being pulled down on the five — a 57-yard run.

The tie left Jena with a 3-5-1 record for the season and Winnfield with a 1-7-1 mark.

DELHI BEATS 'CATS

WINNSBORO —(Special) — Delhi's potent Bears romped to a 26-6 victory over the Winnsboro Wildcats here last night to take their ninth win of the season and second place in District 2-A.

The Bears scored a touchdown in each of the first and third periods and two in the second. Winnsboro broke into the scoring columns in the third quarter.

It was Winnsboro's third setback of the season, leaving the Wildcats in third place in District 2-A. Tallualh is the leader.

For Delhi, it was the last game of the season. The Bears have lost only to Tallulah. Winnsboro ends the season next week against Ferriday.

Halfback Leo Coleman opened Delhi's scoring in the first period when he galloped eight yards for the touchdown following a 40-yard pass play from Charles Simmons to Ken Newton.

Simmons set up the second this one covering 37 yards to end Clyde Hosea that carried to the Winnsboro 12.

Fullback Francis Copes went in from the one following two line plays.

Simmons then pitched again, this time to Nickie Smith on a 25-yard play that spelled touchdown. Charles Hixon kicked the extra point.

The Wildcats recovered a Delhi fumble in the third period on their own 49 and marched downfield to the one from there quarterback Pete Moore scored. A pass attempt for the extra point failed.

Delhi capped off the night on Winnsboro's kick following the touchdown. Newton hauled the ball in on his own 15 and went all the way for the touchdown. The conversion failed.

EAGLES FLY HIGH

MANGHAM (Special) —A Marvin McManus pass to James Sistrunk in the last minutes of the ball game enabled Holly Ridge to roll to a 7-0 victory over Mangham here last night and stay in command of District 2-B.

The Eagles and Dragons fought on equal grounds for three quarters, but a 15-yard penalty and two sustained drives sent Holly Ridge on to win.

It was Holly Ridge's sixth win of the season, their fourth in conference play. The Eagles haven't been beaten in 2-B battle, but have lost four ball games.

Mangham now has a 6-4 record.

A 15-yard penalty on the 48 against Mangham started a Holly Ridge drive from the 33 late in the final quarter. But the Eagles, after reaching the two-yard line, couldn't move and were forced to give up the ball to Mangham.

The Dragons, with their backs to the wall, punted and Holly Ridge began marching again, this time from the 31. McManus and Sistrunk led the way.

McManus' pass to Sistrunk meant the winning touchdown. McManus converted.

BYRD WINS

SHREVEPORT, La. (Special)—Byrd's revamped Yellow Jackets snapped a seven game losing streak with a bang and rolled over the Bastrop Rams, 53-14 here last night.

Quarterback Sonny Parnell provided the Byrd offensive punch with two touchdowns, five extra points and nine pass completions in 12 attempts for 141 yards. yards.

Fullback Bo Campbell, back for the first time in six weeks gained 90 yards in 14 carries leading the Jacket ground attack.

In the first period Byrd drove 72 yards with Campbell going over for the last four. Bastrop came back to tie it up on a 63 yard march with Walter Moore carrying it over for the score.

Barnell sneaked over two other touchdowns and passed to end John Everett for two more.

Two touchdowns by Byrd and one by Bastrop in the final minute of play wrapped up the scoring.

THE NEUMANNS

FERRIDAY (Special) — Dangerous Dan Neumann apparently is not enough for Tallulah.

So the Trojans turned all their Neumann boys free—Danny, plus Tommy and Leonard too—to sweep the 2-A title here last night.

In doing so, the Trojans dropped Ferriday, 33-7.

With the Neumanns, they did it easily, too.

Danny scored two touchdowns and again was a hard young man to bring down while Tommy passed for one and Leonard racked up one himself.

Tallulah jumped into the lead in the first period after Larry Chauvin fumbled on the Ferriday two on fourth down. From there Wayne Nolan went in. The conversion failed.

But in the second period, Danny, the big Neumann, ripped off left guard for 75 yards and the touchdown. This time Jerry Fairbanks kicked the extra point.

With Danny and Leonard Wall leading the way later in the same period, a 31-yard drive was climaxed when Tommy Neumann threw a pass to Thames Morgan for the touchdown. The extra point failed.

In the third period, Nolan joined Danny Neumann to knock holes in the Ferriday defense, starting a drive on the Trojans' 23. From the Ferriday 31, Danny slipped away, to go all the way. Fairbanks converted.

The Bulldogs finally got into the scoring column, in the fourth period. Fullback Delane Burnette scored from the two after a drive that started on the Ferriday 20.

But to climax the night of Neumanns, Tallulah began marching on its own 31. This time it was Leonard Neumann, racing 31 yards for the score. Again Fairbanks converted.

It was Tallulah's ninth win of the season against one loss. Ferriday has won four and now has six defeats.

LAKE PROVIDENCE WINS

COLUMBIA, La. (Special) — Lake Providence spoiled Columbia's homecoming with a 31-0 victory here last night in a 2-B district game.

Purvis Thomas ran 35 yards for the first touchdown and John Richards kicked the extra point. Walter Parker ran for two scores in the first period, one for 15 yards and the other for five.

Thomas scored again in the second period on a 46-yard dash. Gene Emerson finished the scoring in the fourth with a 20 yard run.

Joyce Carr, 17-year old senior was crowned homecoming queen during game ceremonies by Russell Fisher, captain of the 1934 Columbia team honored at the homecoming.

ARCADIA WINS FIRST

ARCADIA, La. (Special) — Arcadia took its first victory of the season here last night, a 20-0 decision over winless Sibley in a 1-B contest.

Arcadia scored all their touchdowns in the first half. Halfback Harvey Kelly ran seven yards for the first one around end. Fullback Omar Driskill ran for the PAT. Quarterback Jerry Johnson passed to Kenneth Christian for two touchdowns in thesecond quarter, both for 20 yards. Driskill added the PAT after the third touchdown.

ISLANDERS WIN

SICILY ISLAND, La. (Special) —Sicily Island rallied to down Newellton, 12-6, here last night in a 3-B district game.

All the scoring was in the third period. Newellton tallied first after recovering an Island fumble on the hosts' 20. Billy Bozeman went over from the one-yard line.

Sicily Island came back in the same quarter with a touchdown by Charles Miller from the five, Miller set it up with a 31-yard pass to Harold Watson. Miller set up and scored the second Sicily Island TD with another pass, this one for 40 yards to Johnny Weston, and run it over from the five.

CENTRAL DIVIDES

DELHI—(Special)—Epps' boys won the nightcap in a basketball doubleheader with Central High School last night, 54-43.

The boys victory enabled Epps to split the doubleheader after Central's girls won, 49-33.

High point man for Epps was Sims with 23 while Bobby Noe was pacing Central with 15.

VIDALIA LOSES

MEADVILLE, Miss. — (Special) Meadville, Miss. came from behind early in the first quarter to take a 19-12 victory over Vidalia here last night.

Vidalia jumped out in front in the opening period on a 20-yard pass play from Jimmy Trindle to Ronald Carpenter that meant touchdown.

Meadville came back to tie it up, convert and take a 7-6 halftime lead.

Luther Andrews scored on a nine-yard run for Vidalia in the third period.

JONESBORO, 6-0

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Jonesboro-Hodge downed the Ruston Bearcats, 6-0, on a first quarter touchdown by quarterback Reggie Holland.

Moments before the score, the first time Jonesboro had the ball, halfback Morris Douglas returned a punt 70 yards to the end zone but had it called back on a clipping penalty. Then Jonesboro started its 85-yard drive to the touchdown.

The only other threat of the game in the last period when Jonesboro drove to the Ruston one but lost the ball on a fumble.

Jonesboro now stands at 8-2 for the season and Ruston 6-3.

Barefist Boxer Draws Penalty

LONDON (AP) — Kitione Lave, the Tonga Island heavyweight, lost his appeal Friday night against a 6-month suspension, imposed for proposing to appear in a barefist fight to the finish. Such fights are banned in Britain.

The British Board of Boxing Control suspended Lave Oct. 8. Friday night the board's appeal stewards confirmed the decision.

Chatham Girls Gain Finals In Tourney

CHATHAM, La. (Special) — Chatham girls assured themselves of a place in the finals of the Chatham Basketball Tournament with a 49-23 victory over Eros here last night.

Other games saw Weston boys beat Choudrant, 44-39; Quitman boys down Eros, 58-47; and Grayson boys beat Calhoun, 62-54.

Lynette Hood scored 15 and Sanda Ann Roberts 14 for Chatham in its win while Martha Ann Holton got 17 for the losers. Chatham won in a draw among the three remaining girls team for a bye into the final round.

Cary Staples scored 12 points for Weston boys while Spillers was high for Choudrant with 16. Quitman, one of the tourney favorites, was led by G. Malcomb's 15 points to its victory. Hayden got 13 for Eros. Ferrand got 31 for Grayson in the close game with Calhoun. Smith led the losers with 17.

Chatham boys play Quitman at 9:00 this morning to start the tourney action. Ruston and Jonesboro-Hodge boys play at 10:30 and Jena and Grayson meet at 12:00. # Florida State Beats Miami In 17-6 Tilt

By GENE PLOWDEN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Florida State Seminoles combined speed and alertness Friday night to score their sweetest football victory in 12 seasons of play as they whipped the University of Miami Hurricanes before 31,879 fans the Orange Bowl, 17-6.

Two Tennessee boys—Fred Pickard from Columbia and Joe Majors from Huntland—led FSU in running and ball-hawking and gave the Seminoles their first triumph over Miami in six attempts.

Florid State scored first and stayed in front all the way to hand the Hurricanes their fifth setback of the season against only a win over Baylor.

Majors intercepted a George MacIntyre pass and raced 42 yards for Florida State's first touchdown. Pickard snagged a pass from Vic Prinzi, intended for Bobby Renn but deflected, for another.

After the Seminoles first score Miami took the ball and marched 68 yards in 11 plays to a touchdown. Bonnie Yarbrough's passes and Harry Deiderich's 26-yard dash through right tackle featured the drive.

Miami Capt. Joe Plevel hit right tackle for the touchdown from the 1. A line buck for the extra point failed.

Tulane Edges Alabama For First SEC Victory, 13 To 6

By ED TUNSTALL

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane's running game punctured Alabama's leathery defense for two touchdowns Friday night and squelched a final minute threat to beat the Crimson Tide 13-7 before 34,000 fans.

Tulane pushed touchdowns across in the first and third periods, but had to stop Alabama on the Green Wave's 8 to salvage the victory.

Quarterback Richie Petitbon and reserve fullback Eddie Dunn pushed Tulane to its first quarter touchdown.

Center Neal Jones recovered a fumble on the Alabama 29 and eight plays later Dunn boomed over center for the score. Howard Kisner's conversion attempt failed.

A bad punt by the usually reliable Alabama quarterback Gary O'Steen led to Tulane's winning score. His punt travelled only one yard after he juggled a snap from center. In two plays, Tulane had the touchdown with Dunn going 23 yards on a line smash and Petitbon sneaking over from the one to score after a 15 yard penalty against Alabama.

Driskill Leading All-Star Nominee

LAKE CHARLES (UPI)— Joe Driskill, a senior end at Northeast State College at Monroe, La., is the Gulf States Conference's leading all-America candidate.

Driskill was nominated by coaches of the six colleges in the conference.

Driskill has caught nine passes for 235 yards and two touchdowns. On defense, he has been the mainstay of the Northeast line, and is credited with the majority of tackles, blocking two punts and recovering three fumbles.

Trailing Driskill in the poll were backs Charley Tolar of Northwestern and Everett Reynolds of Northeast.

Tolar, a 5-foot-7, 190-pound fullback, leads the conference in scoring and ball carrying with 461 yards in 46 carries and 46 points. He's caught five passes for 30 yards, punted eight times for a 27.6 yard average, returned five punts for 136 yards, and returned four kickoffs 61 yards.

Reynolds, a senior at Northeast, has gained 114 yards in 37 carries, completed 23 of 35 passes for 435 yards and seven touchdowns, and has a 37-yard average punting. He has returned three punts for 65 yards and three kickoffs for 74 yards.

NULLIFIED PASS — Robert McGothlin, Fair Park fullback, is shown as he hauls in a pass from quarterback Danny Fairley in the second period of last night's 1-AAA battle. # Fair Park Cops Title With 13-7 Decision Over Rebels

By JIM CALHOUN

The Fair Park Indians, behind the power running of halfbacks Lonnie Harper and Paul LaBenne, dumped West Monroe's Rebels, 13-7, to clinch at least a tie in the torid 1-AAA District race.

The Indians displayed a formidable defense in stopping the Rebs' explosive halfback, Jerry Stovall, and that was the story. Stovall, consistently the team's top ground-gainer, was held to 35 yards in 12 carries.

Fair Park scored with two minutes gone in the second quarter on a 19-yard jaunt by LaBenne and wrapped it up on a one-yard plunge by Harper in the third period.

The game opened as a defensive battle of punts with neither team able to cross mid-field in the opening stanza. In the waning seconds of the first quarter the Indians downed a 46-yard punt by triple-threat Stovall on their own 41. Then Fair Park began its march: Quarterback Danny Fairley hit glue - fingered end Jerry Burton with a 19-yard pass and Harper broke loose for 24 more yards.

With the ball on the Rebel 19, LaBenne took a handoff from Harper on a double reverse and twisted his way past a host of West Monroe tacklers for the score. LaBenne was hit three times but the Rebs were unable to bring the swivel-hipped back down.

Burton, after his first attempt for the conversion was nullified on a penalty, split the uprights on the second try to make it 7-0.

The Indians drove to the West Monroe 17 just before the half ended but a 15-yard penalty stopped the march. Fairley hit fullback Robert McGlothlin on an aerial to the one-yard line but the play was called back because of an illegal receiver downfield and the Rebs took over.

Fair Park scored its winning marker with 34 seconds remaining in the third period. Fairley tossed a long pass to Burton again from the 44 and the fleet Indian end pulled the pigskin in on the 13 and powered on down to the 3. Burton's kick was no good.

The Rebs came back with the following kickoff to narrow the margin. Stovall took the kick on his 18 and churned his way to the 34. Halfback John Moses gained one and a penalty set the ball back to the thirty. Quarterback Tommy Lolley then faded back and spiraled a long toss downfield. Fullback Dwain Johnston, streaking down the middle gathered it in on the Indian 35 and out-distanced the secondary for the touchdown.

Stovall booted the extra point 46 seconds deep in the last quarter.

Led by LaBenne, the Indians battled back and drove in eleven plays to the West Monroe two after the kickoff. Fine defensive play by Lolley and senior tackle Glenn Murphy halted the drive.

Quarterback Ronnie Farmer came in with one minute left in the game and attempted three passes for the Rebels but the charging Fair Park line crashed through to spoil his aim and they fell incomplete.

LaBenne led the Indian offense with 84 yards in 14 carries and Harper had 55 in 15 tries. Moses' 37 yards rushing topped the Rebs.

Guard Harold Johnson and Burton stood out in the Fair Park defensive effort. Tackles Jimmy Bell and Robert Cannon turned in a fine game defensively for West Monroe.

Bossier Humbles Ouachita, 34-14

BOSSIER CITY, La. (Special) — Henry Brown scored four touchdowns to take over the district scoring lead and pace Bossier's Bearcats to a 34-14 victory over Ouachita here last night in an 1-AAA game.

The Bossier star racked up 143 yards rushing in 11 carries to lead the Bossier ball carriers. He scored the first touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Don Vallery. Bobby Kile kicked the extra point. Brown scored his second TD of the second period on a 12-yard rush off tackle and Bossier led, 13-0, at the end of the first.

Brown went eight yards in the second for another score and Kile booted the point again. Ouachita tallied with 1:20 left in the half when tackle Harold Moore picked a fumble out of the air on the Ouachita 14 and went 86 yards for the touchdown. Rex Carter passed to Tommy Crowe for the extra point.

Brown raced 69 yards in the third for another Bossier touchdown and Kile went seven yards later in the period for another touchdown.

With four minutes left in the game, Ouachita's Carter connected with Fred Becton for 15 yards and the second Ouachita touchdown. Bobby Hendrix booted the point.

The win left Bossier at 7-1-1 for the year and 3-1-0 in district 1-AAA play. Ouachita is now 4-6 and 2-3 in the district.

CROWVILLE IN UPSET

CROWVILLE (Special) — Crowville's inspired Bulldogs scored a third period touchdown and then gave up a safety to upset Waterproof, 6-2, here last night to take the lead in District 3-B.

A fired-up Crowville line and fast backfield enabled the Bulldogs to send Waterproof to its second defeat of the season and its first in conference play.

The victory sent the Bulldogs out in front in 3-B ball and a clash next Friday with Wisner could mean the championship for Crowville.

The Bulldogs fought Waterproof to a scoreless tie at the end of the first half and then came back in the third period to score the only touchdown of the night.

A 75-yard drive was climaxed from the five when fullback Truman Johnson bulled his way across into the end zone.

Late in the fourth period, with only 30 seconds left to go. Waterproof had Crowville on the Bulldogs' five. The Bulldogs had held Waterproof on downs.

Taking no chances of letting Waterproof score to tie up the ball game, quarterback James Arnold for Crowville dropped back into the end zone and deliberately fell down, giving Waterproof the two-point safety.

It was Crowville's fifth win of the season against four defeats. Waterproof now has a 7-2 record.

RAYVILLE, 27-21

FARMERVILLE, La. (Special) —Rayville edged Farmerville, 27-21, here last night in a non-district meeting of class A teams.

A Farmerville fumble set up Rayville's first touchdown, a four-yard rush by Paul Hunter. Stewart Dyer passed to Basil Doles for the PAT.

Farmerville came back with a 72-yard march climaxed by Mickey Strother's one-yard plunge for a touchdown. Clayton Brashier ran for the PAT. Stewart Dyer went six yards for a Rayville touchdown in the second period to make the score 13-7 at halftime.

Hunter scored in the third for Rayville on a 4-yard run and Billy Miller kicked the PAT. Brashier came back to score for the Farmers from the one after setting the TD up with a 45-yard run. Brashier ran the PAT.

Dyer passed to Hunter for another Rayville touchdown, also set up by a fumble. Miller booted the point. Brashier sprinted 58 yards for the final Farmerville touchdown and Strother ran for the PAT.

WINNFIELD, JENA TIE

JENA (Special) — Winnfield's Tigers came from behind here last night in the final quarter to tie Jena, 12-12.

A 70-yard drive late in the fourth quarter enable the Tigers to bounce back from a 12-6 lead and tie the ball game. Fullback Tommy Latham scored the crucial touchdown from the one.

Fullback Carlee Manchester again scored all of Jena's points, hitting paydirt once on a 66-yard punt return and again from the one.

Manchester took a handoff from Ronnie Hester on the punt return to go all the way in the first quarter.

In the second period, right halfback H. F. Allbritton scored from the one after a 71-yard drive. The third period went scoreless.

Manchester scored in the third after a 90-yard drive which featured a sparkling run by end Ronnie Hester. Hester, an end, caught a pass from Ronnie Thomas.

But Hester was caught in a pocket of Winnfield players, reversed his field, ran the entire width of the gridiron and danced away before being pulled down on the five — a 57-yard run.

The tie left Jena with a 3-5-1 record for the season and Winnfield with a 1-7-1 mark.

DELHI BEATS 'CATS

WINNSBORO —(Special) — Delhi's potent Bears romped to a 26-6 victory over the Winnsboro Wildcats here last night to take their ninth win of the season and second place in District 2-A.

The Bears scored a touchdown in each of the first and third periods and two in the second. Winnsboro broke into the scoring columns in the third quarter.

It was Winnsboro's third setback of the season, leaving the Wildcats in third place in District 2-A. Tallualh is the leader.

For Delhi, it was the last game of the season. The Bears have lost only to Tallulah. Winnsboro ends the season next week against Ferriday.

Halfback Leo Coleman opened Delhi's scoring in the first period when he galloped eight yards for the touchdown following a 40-yard pass play from Charles Simmons to Ken Newton.

Simmons set up the second this one covering 37 yards to end Clyde Hosea that carried to the Winnsboro 12.

Fullback Francis Copes went in from the one following two line plays.

Simmons then pitched again, this time to Nickie Smith on a 25-yard play that spelled touchdown. Charles Hixon kicked the extra point.

The Wildcats recovered a Delhi fumble in the third period on their own 49 and marched downfield to the one from there quarterback Pete Moore scored. A pass attempt for the extra point failed.

Delhi capped off the night on Winnsboro's kick following the touchdown. Newton hauled the ball in on his own 15 and went all the way for the touchdown. The conversion failed.

EAGLES FLY HIGH

MANGHAM (Special) —A Marvin McManus pass to James Sistrunk in the last minutes of the ball game enabled Holly Ridge to roll to a 7-0 victory over Mangham here last night and stay in command of District 2-B.

The Eagles and Dragons fought on equal grounds for three quarters, but a 15-yard penalty and two sustained drives sent Holly Ridge on to win.

It was Holly Ridge's sixth win of the season, their fourth in conference play. The Eagles haven't been beaten in 2-B battle, but have lost four ball games.

Mangham now has a 6-4 record.

A 15-yard penalty on the 48 against Mangham started a Holly Ridge drive from the 33 late in the final quarter. But the Eagles, after reaching the two-yard line, couldn't move and were forced to give up the ball to Mangham.

The Dragons, with their backs to the wall, punted and Holly Ridge began marching again, this time from the 31. McManus and Sistrunk led the way.

McManus' pass to Sistrunk meant the winning touchdown. McManus converted.

BYRD WINS

SHREVEPORT, La. (Special)—Byrd's revamped Yellow Jackets snapped a seven game losing streak with a bang and rolled over the Bastrop Rams, 53-14 here last night.

Quarterback Sonny Parnell provided the Byrd offensive punch with two touchdowns, five extra points and nine pass completions in 12 attempts for 141 yards. yards.

Fullback Bo Campbell, back for the first time in six weeks gained 90 yards in 14 carries leading the Jacket ground attack.

In the first period Byrd drove 72 yards with Campbell going over for the last four. Bastrop came back to tie it up on a 63 yard march with Walter Moore carrying it over for the score.

Barnell sneaked over two other touchdowns and passed to end John Everett for two more.

THE NEUMANNS

FERRIDAY (Special) — Dangerous Dan Neumann apparently is not enough for Tallulah.

So the Trojans turned all their Neumann boys free—Danny, plus Tommy and Leonard too—to sweep the 2-A title here last night.

In doing so, the Trojans dropped Ferriday, 33-7.

With the Neumanns, they did it easily, too.

Danny scored two touchdowns and again was a hard young man to bring down while Tommy passed for one and Leonard racked up one himself.

Tallulah jumped into the lead in the first period after Larry Chauvin fumbled on the Ferriday two on fourth down. From there Wayne Nolan went in. The conversion failed.

But in the second period, Danny, the big Neumann, ripped off left guard for 75 yards and the touchdown. This time Jerry Fairbanks kicked the extra point.

With Danny and Leonard Wall leading the way later in the same period, a 31-yard drive was climaxed when Tommy Neumann threw a pass to Thames Morgan for the touchdown. The extra point failed.

In the third period, Nolan joined Danny Neumann to knock holes in the Ferriday defense, starting a drive on the Trojans' 23. From the Ferriday 31, Danny slipped away, to go all the way. Fairbanks converted.

The Bulldogs finally got into the scoring column, in the fourth period. Fullback Delane Burnette scored from the two after a drive that started on the Ferriday 20.

But to climax the night of Neumanns, Tallulah began marching on its own 31. This time it was Leonard Neumann, racing 31 yards for the score. Again Fairbanks converted.

It was Tallulah's ninth win of the season against one loss. Ferriday has won four and now has six defeats.

LAKE PROVIDENCE WINS

Purvis Thomas ran 35 yards for the first touchdown and John Richards kicked the extra point. Walter Parker ran for two scores in the first period, one for 15 yards and the other for five.

Thomas scored again in the second period on a 46-yard dash. Gene Emerson finished the scoring in the fourth with a 20 yard run.

ARCADIA WINS FIRST

ARCADIA, La. (Special) — Arcadia took its first victory of the season here last night, a 20-0 decision over winless Sibley in a 1-B contest.

Arcadia scored all their touchdowns in the first half. Halfback Harvey Kelly ran seven yards for the first one around end. Fullback Omar Driskill ran for the PAT. Quarterback Jerry Johnson passed to Kenneth Christian for two touchdowns in thesecond quarter, both for 20 yards. Driskill added the PAT after the third touchdown.

ISLANDERS WIN

SICILY ISLAND, La. (Special) —Sicily Island rallied to down Newellton, 12-6, here last night in a 3-B district game.

All the scoring was in the third period. Newellton tallied first after recovering an Island fumble on the hosts' 20. Billy Bozeman went over from the one-yard line.

Sicily Island came back in the same quarter with a touchdown by Charles Miller from the five, Miller set it up with a 31-yard pass to Harold Watson. Miller set up and scored the second Sicily Island TD with another pass, this one for 40 yards to Johnny Weston, and run it over from the five .

CENTRAL DIVIDES

DELHI—(Special)—Epps' boys won the nightcap in a basketball doubleheader with Central High School last night, 54-43.

The boys victory enabled Epps to split the doubleheader after Central's girls won, 49-33.

High point man for Epps was Sims with 23 while Bobby Noe was pacing Central with 15.

VIDALIA LOSES

MEADVILLE, Miss. — (Special) Meadville, Miss. came from behind early in the first quarter to take a 19-12 victory over Vidalia here last night.

Vidalia jumped out in front in the opening period on a 20-yard pass play from Jimmy Trindle to Ronald Carpenter that meant touchdown.

Meadville came back to tie it up, convert and take a 7-6 halftime lead.

Luther Andrews scored on a nine-yard run for Vidalia in the third period.

JONESBORO, 6-0

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Jonesboro-Hodge downed the Ruston Bearcats, 6-0, on a first quarter touchdown by quarterback Reggie Holland.

Moments before the score, the first time Jonesboro had the ball, halfback Morris Douglas returned a punt 70 yards to the end zone but had it called back on a clipping penalty. Then Jonesboro started its 85-yard drive to the touchdown.

The only other threat of the game in the last period when Jonesboro drove to the Ruston one but lost the ball on a fumble.

Jonesboro now stands at 8-2 for the season and Ruston 6-3.

Chatham Girls Gain Finals In Tourney

CHATHAM, La. (Special) — Chatham girls assured themselves of a place in the finals of the Chatham Basketball Tournament with a 49-23 victory over Eros here last night.

Other games saw Weston boys beat Choudrant, 44-39; Quitman boys down Eros, 58-47; and Grayson boys beat Calhoun, 62-54.

Lynette Hood scored 15 and Sanda Ann Roberts 14 for Chatham in its win while Martha Ann Holton got 17 for the losers. Chatham won in a draw among the three remaining girls team for a bye into the final round.

Cary Staples scored 12 points for Weston boys while Spillers was high for Choudrant with 16. Quitman, one of the tourney favorites, was led by G. Malcomb's 15 points to its victory. Hayden got 13 for Eros. Ferrand got 31 for Grayson in the close game with Calhoun. Smith led the losers with 17.

Chatham boys play Quitman at 9:00 this morning to start the tourney action. Ruston and Jonesboro-Hodge boys play at 10:30 and Jena and Grayson meet at 12:00. Winnfield meets Jena girls in a semi-final game at 1:00 and the winners of two of the boys games play a semi-final game at 2:30. The boys team to draw a bye to the finals will be determined by drawing lots today.

Florida State Beats Miami In 17-6 Tilt

By GENE PLOWDEN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Florida State Seminoles combined speed and alertness Friday night to score their sweetest football victory in 12 seasons of play as they whipped the University of Miami Hurricanes before 31,879 fans the Orange Bowl, 17-6.

Two Tennessee boys—Fred Pickard from Columbia and Joe Majors from Huntland—led FSU in running and ball-hawking and gave the Seminoles their first triumph over Miami in six attempts.

Florid State scored first and stayed in front all the way to hand the Hurricanes their fifth setback of the season against only a win over Baylor.

Majors intercepted a George MacIntyre pass and raced 42 yards for Florida State's first touchdown. Pickard snagged a pass from Vic Prinzi, intended for Bobby Renn but deflected, for another.

After the Seminoles first score Miami took the ball and marched 68 yards in 11 plays to a touchdown. Bonnie Yarbrough's passes and Harry Deiderich's 26-yard dash through right tackle featured the drive.

Miami Capt. Joe Plevel hit right tackle for the touchdown from the 1. A line buck for the extra point failed.

Gain 3rd Round

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Favored Australians gained the third round of the South Australian Tennis Championships Friday.

Ashley Cooper, holder of the U. S. and Wimbledon crowns, led the advance with a 6-3, 6-3, 6-8, 6-0 victory over Graham Gabb, a fellow Australian.

Barefist Boxer Draws Penalty

LONDON (AP) — Kitione Lave, the Tonga Island heavyweight, lost his appeal Friday night against a 6-month suspension, imposed for proposing to appear in a barefist fight to the finish. Such fights are banned in Britain.

The British Board of Boxing Control suspended Lave Oct. 8. Friday night the board's appeal stewards confirmed the decision.

Cage Results

LINVILLE, MARION SPLIT

LINVILLE, La. (Special) — Linville's girls won their sixth straight game and Marion boys captured their seventh in a row as the two schools divided basketball games here last night.

Linville won the girls game, 46-41, as Faye Ford led the way with 38 points. Tiny Pilgreen got 25 for the losers. Bobby Andrews scored 31 points for Marion in the boys game and Norma Pace was tops for Linville with 21.

MONTICELLO SWEEPS

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. — (Special)—Monticello took a cage doubleheader from Oak Ridge last night, the varsity boys winning, 72-32, and the "B" team taking a 24-18 verdict.

Ralph Coleman scored 20 points for Monticello in the varsity game and Nolan got 15 for Oak Ridge. Lee got 10 for the winners in the "B" game and Warren had 8 for Oak Ridge.

AMATEUR FIGHT CARD

W. Monroe Athletic Club Meets Tyler Boxers Here

Six amateur bouts are on tap for tonight as the invading Tyler, Tex., mittmen square off against West Monroe Athletic Club's boxers at the West Monroe High School gymnasium at 8:15.

Tyler will bring a squad of at least six fighters and one or two bouts may be added to the six definitely slated. Joe Knighten, manager of the West Monroe club, announced the boxers would be matched immediately after weigh-in this afternoon.

The Tyler club, managed by former pro, Artie Dorrell, will have a squad of experienced mittmen in the ring tonight. West Monroe's Otis House, a middleweight, is the only hometown boxer scheduled to go with previous ring experience. House has won two and dropped one.

Neal Rayford, Tyler 125-pounder will carry an impressive record of twelve wins against a single loss into his match. A 150 - pounder Larry McClelland, has a record of eight wins and one loss.

Other Tyler boys who will probably see action are E. T. Boone, with a record of 7-3, Bobby Walker, 6-3, Mickey Turman, 5-3, and Mike Cannat with a 0-2 slate.

Two welterweights, Aubrey and Wesley Russ, saw action last week in an exhibition at Kallio's Arena but will meet their first actual competition against Tyler. Edward Nation, 151 pounds, David Hicks, 130, and Jimmy Dortch, 165, have also been lined up for bouts tonight.

Dorrell, who fought in Texas for several years as the Texas Tornado, was a golden gloves champ, and after turning professional fought four world's champions. He also appeared in a boxing role in a movie with John Garfield, "Body And Soul."

In addition to Knighten, West Monroe has two fine trainers in Carl Netherland and Donald Ware, both pro boxers. Netherland won 78 fights as an amateur and is still a top-notcher in the AAU ranks. Ware, a welterweight, had a long string of amateur wins and also fought in the Army before turning pro.

Loy Scarbrough, a local official, will referee the matches, with Dr. Doyle Hamilton the attending ringside physician. Judging tonight's bouts will be L. B. Leggett, Ed Thomas, and A. R. Scott.

Prices have been announced, with ringside tickets going at $1.50 General admission will be 90 cents for adults and 35 cents for children. The doors will open at seven o'clock.

NATIONAL ROUNDUP

Grid Spotlight On Big Ten Tilts

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Big Ten holds the major portion of the national spotlight Saturday as college football once more ventures out into the sports stage it has dominated the past six weeks.

The Big Ten games have a direct bearing on the conference title, which could be decided Saturday, while a fourth has as its prize a brass spittoon—a trophy as odd as the events which are likely to happen before midnight.

The big one is at Wisconsin where the seventh ranked Badgers entertain fourth ranked Northwestern. The Wildcats must win all their remaining Big Ten games and hope that Ohio State beats Iowa in two weeks if they hope to make the trip to the Rose Bowl.

The Badgers have given a stingy 6-7 points per game but must stop Northwestern's Dick Thornton and Ron Burton, who smothered Ohio State 21-0 last week.

Ohio State No. 16 entertains eighth-ranked Purdue, which also must keep winning to keep its flickering title hopes alive.

OSU's star halfback, Don Clark, returns after missing the Northwestern game last week, the Bucks' first conference defeat in 20 games. Purdue is banking on fullback Bob Jarus, hobbled a bit by a twisted knee.

Iowa, the conference leader and nationally the second-ranked team, plays winless Minnesota. Iowa can clinch the crown if Purdue and Northwestern lose and it knocks off the Gophers. Minnesota has lost nine in a row since last November.

That game for the brass spittoon is between Indiana and Michigan State. MSU has held the trophy since the series began in 1950.

Louisiana State, the nation's No. 1 team, meets Atlantic Coast Conference member Duke. The Tigers, tops in the Southeastern Congers, tops i the Southeastern Conference, are only three games away from an undefeated season.

The day's top intersectional contest pits Army (No. 3) against Southwest Conference title contender Rice (No. 13). This is the Cadets' first trip ever to the Southwest, and they have halfback Pete Dawkins in perfect shape and fullback Harry Walters back for offensive duties. Both missed two games because of injuries.

Auburn (No. 5), the nation's top defensive team, plays Mississippi State in an SEC game, while Oklahoma (No. 6) meets Iowa State in a Big Eight contest.

Ninth-ranked Mississippi, which lost its first game last week, to LSU, meets non-SEC rival Houston, loser of two straight. The Air Force Academy (No. 10) goes after its sixth victory when it plays Denver. The Falcons were tied by Iowa.

Texas Christian (No. 11) plays an intersectional game with Marquette, and Notre Dame (No. 14) does likewise with Pitt in Pittsburgh.

North Carolina (No. 15) goes after its sixth straight victory against Virginia which has lost it's last five. Clemson (No. 17) the ACC leader, plays SEC neighbor Georgia Tech; 18th ranked Rutgers (6-0) plays Lafayette, winner of five straight; Florida (No. 19) faces Georgia in another SEC game while Southern Methodist (No. 20) plays Texas A&M in a Southwestern Conference tilt.

Kansas plays Nebraska, while Missouri will try to keep its Big Eight record spotless against once-beaten Colorado.

Harvard plays Princeton, while the Ivy leader Cornell faces Brown. Navy meets Maryland in the East's other big game.

Kenny Lane Cops Verdict Over Godih

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — Southpaw Kenny Lane Friday outpointed Algerian Lahouari Godih in a 10-round fight before a national television audience and 1,002 paying fans who booed the decision.

Lane's jabbing with the right hand appeared to keep Godih somewhat off pace but throughout most of the fight he managed to get in enough good punches to win the nod from Judge Dick Albino, who scored it 6-4, and from United Press International which gave Godih a 5-4-1 decision.

There were no knockdowns in the fight although Godih slipped to his knee in the third. In the final round Godih, who tried to be the aggressor throughout, picked Lane off the floor and the two wrestled to the canvas.

Godih drew a warning from referee Joe Palmer but was not penalized.

Neigher fighter was marked but Godih was bleeding slightly from the mouth.

Lane stayed fairly anchored and allowed Godih to do most of the moving. Lane, number one ranking contender for Joe Brown's lightweight championship, scored best with his fairly accurate right jabs to both the head and body of Godih.

He got in his best shots of the bout in the fourth and seventh rounds when his right jabbing, with occasional lefts, were most effective.

It was the 60th fight of Lane's career and the decision gave him a record of 54-6. The loss was Godih's fourth of the year against two wins. It put his 56 fight career record at 47-7-2.

Referee Joe Palmer scored the fight 7-3 in favor of Lane, while Harold McGrath, the other judge, had it 5-3-2 for Lane, who weighed in at 141½ to 139½ for Godih.

Northwestern To Host SLI In Day Game

NATCHITOCHES, La.—(Special) Southwestern Louisiana Institute's Bulldogs invade Northwestern State College's Demon Stadium Saturday afternoon for a Homecoming battle, the 49th meeting of the two rivals who met on the gridiron for the first time in 1909.

The Bulldogs lead in the long series 23 to 20 with 3 games ending in ties and scores being unavailable for 2 other games. NSC and SLI have reportedly met twice during the grid season. Last year's contest went to the Demons 19-0. SLI won their last game over the Demons in 1955, a 27-13 victory.

It'll be Homecoming for Coach Jack Clayton's purple and white eleven which was ranked tenth in the nation among small colleges this week by Dick Dunkel after their 42-6 win over Northeast Louisiana State. In addition, the College observes its 75th anniversary, its diamond jubilee.

This is an important battle for the Demons who are tied for second place in Gulf States Conference standings. They must win over SLI and Southeastern Louisiana College to claim a share of the 1958 title. They were co-champions in 1957.

Coach Clayton's 1958 team has 4-2 record, losing to McNeese 25-8 and Louisiana College 13-12. One game scheduled earlier with Lamar Tech was postponed because of a rain flood.

SLI, coached by Jim Hoggatt, new mentor, is in a rebuilding year and has won but one game in seven outings. However, their 22-18 win over Trinity University and the Texas sleven ranks seventh in the Dunkel ratings.

Season Tickets For Tech Cage Games On Sale

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Season tickets for Louisiana Tech's 13 home basketball games will go on sale at 8 a.m. Saturday at the athletic department office in Memorial gymnasium.

Athletic officials said sales will start then as a convenience for Tech alumni who will be here for the homecoming football game at 2 p.m., Saturday against Southeastern Louisiana college.

Season ducats may be purchased from 8 a.m., until noon on Saturday. Tickets will remain on sale until noon, Nov. 22. A season ticket cost $12.

A total of 48,000 fans saw the Tech team during 12 home games during the 1957-58 campaign.

Orange Rolls Over Boston In 42-0 Rout

BOSTON (AP) — Syracuse virtually stamped its football bowl ticket by rolling over Boston University 42-0 Friday night with quarterback Chuck Zimmerman directing a free-wheeling attack behind a fiercely aggressive line.

Syracuse, featuring one of the hardest tackling and blocking forward walls seen in these parts in years, used the entire 35-man traveling squad en route to its convincing decision.

With just Colgate and West Virginia remaining on its schedule, Syracuse already ranked high on the consideration lists of the Orange, Cotton and Gator bowls.

Zimmerman, Tom Stephens and Ger Schedes—three fourths of the Orangemen's famed "Panzer Unit"—all had a hand in the scoring while fullback-mate Ed Keiffer remained at home with an ankle injury. Needless to say, he wasn't missed.

HALFBACK B. K. MILLER will probably see action for Louisiana Tech against Southeastern Louisiana College Saturday afternoon. The Sicily Island sophomore has been on the injured list since Tech's opening game with Mississippi Southern. Miller, a 5-9 mighty mite, will be out to show Tech's Homecoming fans he's ready to go again.

HOMECOMING

Tech's Bulldogs Host SLC Lions

RUSTON, La. (Special) —A capacity crowd is expected here at 2 p.m., Saturday to watch the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs in their homecoming game against Southeastern Louisiana College.

It is a crucial Gulf States conference game, with the loser dropping out of contention for the title. The winner will have a good chance to win or tie for the GSC crown.

Tech has won four of seven this year while the Lions have won two of five. Southeastern was idle last week while the Techmen were defeated 26-12 by Memphis State.

The two clubs are somewhat alike, with both fielding teams with power and speed in the backfields and with defenses that have been somewhat erratic. Because of this, a wild offensive battle may comeoff Saturday afternoon.

Tech Halfback B. K. Miller may see his first action since the season opener when he was hurt. David Williamson, another halfback, may be ready for the first time since being hurt three weeks ago.

Both teams have been hampered by fumbles in recent outings. Tech lost four of six fumbles in losing to Memphis State and the Lions fumbled four times in crucial spots in losing to Northeast State 22-8 a couple of weeks ago.

No Athletics For L. Rock High Schools

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The ruling agency decided Friday that Little Rock's Central and Hall High Schools will not be allowed to field athletic teams after the close of the football season if the schools do not reopen.

The decision was made by the executive committee of the Arkansas Athletic Assn., which also clarified several eligibility regulations in connection with the situation resulting from closing of the schools against integration by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

The committee ruled, "No public high school exists in Little Rock unless the schools reopen by Dec. 1.

This will permit students to become eligible for athletics at the first school which they enroll.

The committee had held previously that public schools still exist. That permitted Central and Hall to continue to field football teams despite the fact that no classes were being held. It prevented their students from becoming eligible at other schools for a year unless they moved to the other school district.

Coach Pete Fulford of Baptist High School here paid membership dues to the AAA shortly after the ruling was made.

Porkers Meet Baugh's Boys At Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. AP — The University of Arkansas, which grabbed its first victory from a pass-minded team last week meets another set of flingers Saturday night in War Memorial Stadium.

Coach Sammy Baugh, the greatest flinger of them all, brings his Hardin-Simmons aerial circus to Arkansas with a 4-3 record, compared to the Porkers' 1-6.

Pitted against the Razorback secondary, which last week contained Texas A&M's vaunted aerial attack short of the goal, will be the nation's sixth-ranked receiver and two of the country's leading tossers.

Sammy Oates, a 210-pound freshman end, has caught 24 passes for 304 yards while quarterbacks Harold Stephens and Jim Tom Butler have a combined record of 104 completions in 214 attempts for 1,105 yards.

Central Slates Home Contests

DELHI, La. (Special) —Central High School has announced the remainder of its home basketball schedule including the Central Tournament, set to start Friday, Jan. 16.

Central will meet the Ogden teams here Tuesday night, Nov. 11, in its next home games. The girls games will begin at 7 and the boys immediately after.

The schedule:

Nov. 11 —Ogden; Nov. 14 —Forest; Nov. 18— Oak Ridge; Dec. 16 —Baskin; Jan. 2 —Wisner; Jan. 6 — Winnsboro; Jan. 16 — Central tournament; Feb. 3 — Crowville.

Pancake Supper

The West Monroe Junior High School Athletic Association will sponsor a pancake supper Saturday night at 5 o'clock at the school.

The supper will be held in the school cafeteria and the funds will be used to finance the school's athletic program.

Spike Briggs Off On Hunt, Tigers Maybe?

DETROIT (AP) — Spike Briggs, former president and general manager of the Detroit Baseball Co., takes off for Africa on a big game hunt Monday.

Some well-wishers at a going-away luncheon expressed hope Spike could bring back some tigers.

Spike explained: "Where I'm going there are no tigers."

Then he thought a moment and said: "In fact there weren't many Tigers where I came from."

Since football began at the University of Alabama in 1892 the Crimson Tide has had seven unbeaten seasons. Two came in succession in 1925 and 1926.

Willie Shoemaker won two of Chicago's major stakes during 1958 aboard Restless Wind. The pair took the Washington Park Futurity and the Arlington Futurity.

California leads all states in golf course activity for the third straight year. The state opened 31 new courses in 1958, has 25 under construction and 78 in the planning stage.

TIGERS AIM AT NO. 8

Fugler, Cannon To Lead LSU Against Duke Tonight

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Top-ranked Louisiana State looks to explosive Billy Cannon and mighty Max Fugler Saturday night to keep the unbeaten Tigers from tripping over Dukes big, rough line.

LSU, favorite for a bowl bid and the Southeastern Conference title, aims at victory number eight in the football contest that will see the Tigers break their own SEC home attendance mark.

Another sellout crowd of more than 65,000 — the third this fall — will push the total for five home games to 305,000, snapping the mark of 297,193 set last year in six games. Kickoff is 8 p.m. (CST).

Duke, Atlantic Coast Conference representative last Jan. 1 in the Orange Bowl, has a tough luck 3-4 record this year, losing to Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Virginia and South Carolina by a total of 15 points.

Cannon, fleet 200-pound halfback, is the SEC's top ground gainer, a threat of such proportions that Mississippi last week aimed its defense at stopping his in the 14-0 victory over the previously unbeaten Rebels.

Fugler, 200-pound center, calls signals on the defense that stopped Mississippi four times inside the LSU two yard line, key play in thrusts to the right side, leaving ously unbeaten Rebels.

The agile junior center figured in all four tackles and was named Associated Press college lineman of the week.

Duke's hard-hitting split-T offense features sweeps by halfbacks Wray Carlton and George Dutrow and the passing of quarterback Brodhead.

The Blue Devils will have a weight advantage of more than 100 pounds over the LSU line, with the Tigers slightly heavier in the backfield.

However, LSU has an edge in speed and depth. Coach Paul Dietzel's three-unit system, white team, "Go team" and "Chinese bandits" has worn down a number of foes.

The "Go team" is the number two offensive unit and the "Chinese bandits" are the second string defensive unit. The white team is the first team, made up of the best 11 football players who play offense and defense.

Dietzel made one switch for Duke, moving guard Ed McCreedy from the bandits to the white unit in exchange with Tommy Lott, slowed by a leg injury. On defense only Lott will not be required to do the hard running required by the Tiger wing-T offense, which calls on guards to pull out and lead interference on almost every play.

Otherwise, except for bruises, the Tigers are in top shape.

Duke fullback Bob Cruikshank, who has been injured, is expected to be ready for LSU.

The Blue Devils arrived by plane Friday afternoon and worked out lightly under the lights at Tiger stadium Friday night.

THREE TIED FOR 2ND

Boros Gains 1st Place At Atlanta

By DAVID M. MOFFITT

ATLANTA (UPI) — Husky Julius Boros, the "old pro" who plays best when the chips are down, turned in a steady 2-under-par 70 Friday to take the lead after three rounds of the $25,000 Atlanta Open Golf Tournament.

Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., closed out 54 holes with a 210, six strokes under par and was favored to become the first player ever to win the meet twice and win an additional $5,000 bonus.

Bill Casper, Apple Valley, Calif.; Ernie Vossler, Midland, Tex.; and Bob Watson, Ardsley-on-Hudson, N.Y., shared a three-way tie for second with 212s. Vossler had a 70 Friday while Casper and Watson had 71's.

National Open champion Tommy Bolt, controlling both his famed temper and his approach shots, earned the loudest plaudits here Friday by turning in a seven-under-par 65 with an eagle and six birdies. Bolt, who was 12 strokes off the pace after the second round, was in a three-way tie for fifth place with a 213 and rates as a definite contender.

Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., who captured the lead Thursday after setting a course record with an 8-under-64 soared to a 77 to drop back to 213. Bill Collins of Baltimore, Md., who was second Thursday at 138 also was at 213 after a 75-shot third round.

Boros' 210, set up by a 6-under-66 Thursday, rates more attention when it is noted that only 10 of the 80 pros and amateurs still in the tournament have been able to do as well as par for three rounds over the rugged 7,004-yard Cherokee course which still is partly under construction.

Others at par or better are Fred Hawkins at 1-under-215 and Marty Furgol and Bob Goalby at even 216s. Art Wall, Pocono Manor, Pa., was one of three players at 217.

The original field of 121 was cut to the 60 pros with scores of 228 or better and the 10 amateurs. Low amateur is Gene Dahlbender of Atlanta with a 223.

Many of the name players are far back in the pack. Masters champion Arnold Palmer and former Atlanta winner Doug Ford are at 221. Another ex-Atlanta winner, Dow Finsterwald, has a 223 and defending champion Paul Harney has been eliminated.

The fourth and final round of the tournament will be played Sunday. Saturday is an off day in deference to the Georgia Tech-Clemson football game which is being played here.

W. Monroe Athletic Club Meets Tyler Boxers Here

Six amateur bouts are on tap for tonight as the invading Tyler, Tex., mittmen square off against West Monroe Athletic Club's boxers at the West Monroe High School gymnasium at 8:15.

Tyler will bring a squad of at least six fighters and one or two bouts may be added to the six definitely slated. Joe Knighten, manager of the West Monroe club, announced the boxers would be matched immediately after weigh-in this afternoon.

The Tyler club, managed by former pro, Artie Dorrell, will have a squad of experienced mittmen in the ring tonight. West Monroe's Otis House, a middleweight, is the only hometown boxer scheduled to go with previous ring experience. House has won two and dropped one.

Neal Rayford, Tyler 125-pounder will carry an impressive record of twelve wins against a single loss into his match. A 150 - pounder Larry McClelland, has a record of eight wins and one loss.

Other Tyler boys who will probably see action are E. T. Boone, with a record of 7-3, Bobby Walker, 6-3, Mickey Turman, 5-3, and Mike Cannat with a 0-2 slate.

Two welterweights, Aubrey and Wesley Russ, saw action last week in an exhibition at Kallio's Arena but will meet their first actual competition against Tyler. Edward Nation, 151 pounds, David Hicks, 130, and Jimmy Dortch, 165, have also been lined up for bouts tonight.

Dorrell, who fought in Texas for several years as the Texas Tornado, was a golden gloves champ, and after turning professional fought four world's champions. He also appeared in a boxing role in a movie with John Garfield, "Body And Soul."

In addition to Knighten, West Monroe has two fine trainers in Carl Netherland and Donald Ware, both pro boxers. Netherland won 78 fights as an amateur and is still a top-notcher in the AAU ranks. Ware, a welterweight, had a long string of amateur wins and also fought in the Army before turning pro.

Loy Scarbrough, a local official, will referee the matches, with Dr. Doyle Hamilton the attending ringside physician. Judging tonight's bouts will be L. B. Leggett, Ed Thomas, and A. R. Scott.

Prices have been announced, with ringside tickets going at $1.50 General admission will be 90 cents for adults and 35 cents for children. The doors will open at seven o'clock.

NATIONAL ROUNDUP

Grid Spotlight On Big Ten Tilts

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Big Ten holds the major portion of the national spotlight Saturday as college football once more ventures out into the sports stage it has dominated the past six weeks.

The Big Ten games have a direct bearing on the conference title, which could be decided Saturday, while a fourth has as its prize a brass spittoon—a trophy as odd as the events which are likely to happen before midnight.

The big one is at Wisconsin where the seventh ranked Badgers entertain fourth ranked Northwestern. The Wildcats must win all their remaining Big Ten games and hope that Ohio State beats Iowa in two weeks if they hope to make the trip to the Rose Bowl.

The Badgers have given a stingy 6-7 points per game but must stop Northwestern's Dick Thornton and Ron Burton, who smothered Ohio State 21-0 last week.

Ohio State No. 16 entertains eighth-ranked Purdue, which also must keep winning to keep its flickering title hopes alive.

OSU's star halfback, Don Clark, returns after missing the Northwestern game last week, the Bucks' first conference defeat in 20 games. Purdue is banking on fullback Bob Jarus, hobbled a bit by a twisted knee.

Iowa, the conference leader and nationally the second-ranked team, plays winless Minnesota. Iowa can clinch the crown if Purdue and Northwestern lose and it knocks off the Gophers. Minnesota has lost nine in a row since last November.

That game for the brass spittoon is between Indiana and Michigan State. MSU has held the trophy since the series began in 1950.

Louisiana State, the nation's No. 1 team, meets Atlantic Coast Conference member Duke. The Tigers, tops in the Southeastern Congers, tops i the Southeastern Conference, are only three games away from an undefeated season.

The day's top intersectional contest pits Army (No. 3) against Southwest Conference title contender Rice (No. 13). This is the Cadets' first trip ever to the Southwest, and they have halfback Pete Dawkins in perfect shape and fullback Harry Walters back for offensive duties. Both missed two games because of injuries.

Auburn (No. 5), the nation's top defensive team, plays Mississippi State in an SEC game, while Oklahoma (No. 6) meets Iowa State in a Big Eight contest.

Ninth-ranked Mississippi, which lost its first game last week, to LSU, meets non-SEC rival Houston, loser of two straight. The Air Force Academy (No. 10) goes after its sixth victory when it plays Denver. The Falcons were tied by Iowa.

Texas Christian (No. 11) plays an intersectional game with Marquette, and Notre Dame (No. 14) does likewise with Pitt in Pittsburgh.

North Carolina (No. 15) goes after its sixth straight victory against Virginia which has lost it's last five. Clemson (No. 17) the ACC leader, plays SEC neighbor Georgia Tech; 18th ranked Rutgers (6-0) plays Lafayette, winner of five straight; Florida (No. 19) faces Georgia in another SEC game while Southern Methodist (No. 20) plays Texas A&M in a Southwestern Conference tilt.

Kansas plays Nebraska, while Missouri will try to keep its Big Eight record spotless against once-beaten Colorado.

Harvard plays Princeton, while the Ivy leader Cornell faces Brown. Navy meets Maryland in the East's other big game.

Kenny Lane Cops Verdict Over Godih

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — Southpaw Kenny Lane Friday outpointed Algerian Lahouari Godih in a 10-round fight before a national television audience and 1,002 paying fans who booed the

Lane's jabbing with the right hand appeared to keep Godih somewhat off pace but through most of the fight he managed to get in enough good punches to win the nod from Judge Dick Albino, who scored it 6-4, and from United Press International which gave Godih a 5-4-1 decision.

There were no knockdowns in the fight although Godih slipped to his knee in the third. In the final round Godih, who tried to be the aggressor throughout, picked Lane off the floor and the two wrestled to the canvas.

Godih drew a warning from referee Joe Palmer but was not penalized.

Neigher fighter was marked but Godih was bleeding slightly from the mouth.

Lane stayed fairly anchored and allowed Godih to do most of the moving. Lane, number one ranking contender for Joe Brown's lightweight championship, scored best with his fairly accurate right jabs to both the head and body of Godih.

He got in his best shots of the bout in the fourth and seventh rounds when his right jabbing, with occasional lefts, were most effective.

It was the 60th fight of Lane's career and the decision gave him a record of 54-6. The loss was Godih's fourth of the year against two wins. It put his 56 fight career record at 47-7-2.

Referee Joe Palmer scored the fight 7-3 in favor of Lane, while Harold McGrath, the other judge, had it 5-3-2 for Lane, who weighed in at 141½ to 139½ for Godih.

Northwestern To Host SLI In Day Game

NATCHITOCHES, La.—(Special) Southwestern Louisiana Institute's Bulldogs invade Northwestern State College's Demon Stadium Saturday afternoon for a Homecoming battle, the 49th meeting of the two rivals who met on the gridiron for the first time in 1909.

The Bulldogs lead in the long series 23 to 20 with 3 games ending in ties and scores being unavailable for 2 other games. NSC and SLI have requently met twice during the grid season. Last year's contest went to the Demons 19-0. SLI won their last game over the Demons in 1955, a 27-13 victory.

It'll be Homecoming for Coach Jack Clayton's purple and white eleven which was ranked tenth in the nation among small colleges this week by Dick Dunkel after their 42-6 win over Northeast Louisiana State. In addition, the College observes its 75th anniversary, its diamond jubilee.

This is an important battle for the Demons who are tied for second place in Gulf States Conferenc standings. They must win over SLI and Southeastern Louisiana College to claim a share of the 1958 title. They were co-champions in 1957.

Coach Clayton's 1958 team has 4-2 record, losing to McNeese 25-8 and Louisiana College 13-12. One game scheduled earlier with Lamar Tech was postponed because of a rain flood.

SLI, coached by Jim Hoggatt, new mentor, is in a rebuilding year and has won but one game in seven outings. However, their win was over Trinity University 22-18 and the Texas sleven ranks seventh in the Dunkel ratings.

Season Tickets For Tech Cage Games On Sale

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Season tickets for Louisiana Tech's 13 home basketball games will go on sale at 8 a.m., Saturday at the athletic department office in Memorial gymnasium.

Athletic officials said sales will start then as a convenience for Tech alumni who will be here for the homecoming football game at 2 p.m., Saturday against Southeastern Louisiana college.

Season ducates may be purchased from 8 a.m., until noon on Saturday. Tickets will remain on sale until noon, Nov. 22. A season ticket cost $12.

A total of 48,000 fans saw the Tech team during 12 home games during the 1957-58 campaign.

Orange Rolls Over Boston In 42-0 Rout

BOSTON (AP) — Syracuse virtually stamped its football bowl ticket by rolling over Boston University 42-0 Friday night with quarterback Chuck Zimmerman directing a free-wheeling attack behind a fiercely aggressive line.

Syracuse, featuring one of the hardest tackling and blocking forward walls seen in these parts in years, used the entire 35-man traveling squad en route to its convincing decision.

With just Colgate and West Virginia remaining on its schedule, Syracuse already ranked high on the consideration lists of the Orange, Cotton and Gator bowls.

Zimmerman, Tom Stephens and Ger Schedes—three fourths of the Orangemen's famed "Panzer Unit"—all had a hand in the scoring while fullback-mate Ed Keiffer remained at home with an ankle injury. Needless to say, he wasn't missed.

Central Slates Home Contests

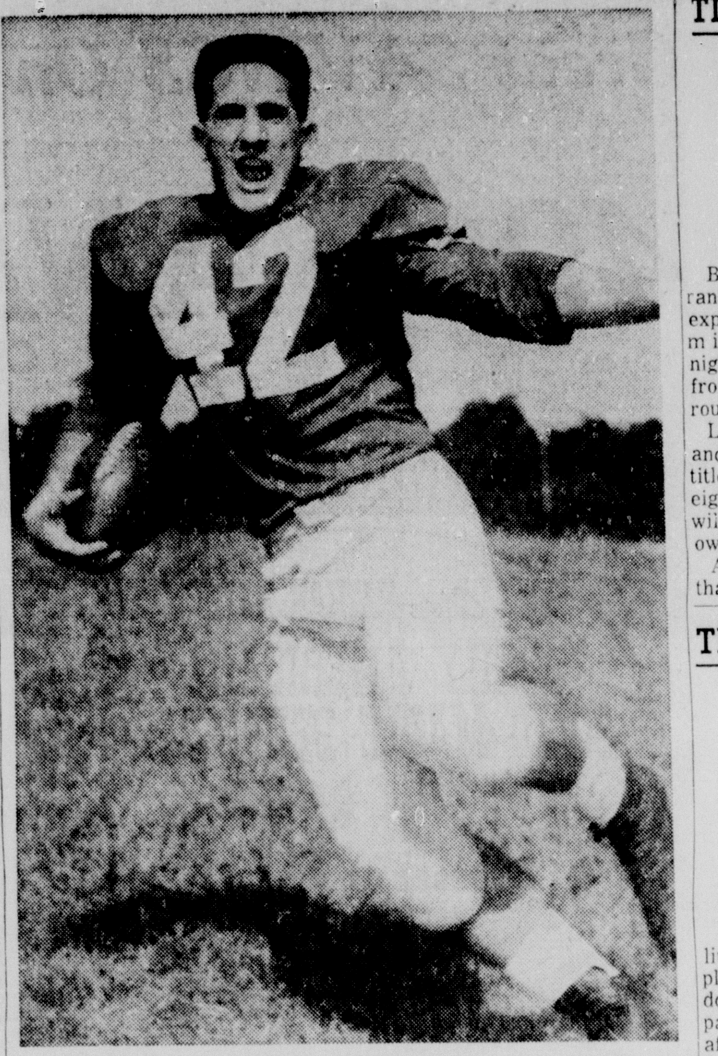
DELHI, La. (Special) —Central High School has announced the remainder of its home basketball schedule including the Central Tournament, set to start Friday, Jan. 16.

Central will meet the Ogden teams here Tuesday night, Nov. 11, in its next home games. The girls games will begin at 7 and the boys immediately after.

The schedule:

Nov. 11 —Ogden; Nov. 14 —Forest; Nov. 18— Oak Ridge; Dec. 16 —Baskin; Jan. 2 —Wisner; Jan. 6 — Winnsboro; Jan. 16 — Central tournament; Feb. 3 — Crowville.



HALFBACK B. K. MILLER will probably see action for Louisiana Tech against Southeastern Louisiana College Saturday afternoon. The Sicily Island sophomore has been on the injured list since Tech's opening game with Mississippi Southern. Miller, a 5-9 mighty mite, will be out to show Tech's Homecoming fans he's ready to go again.

HOMECOMING

Tech's Bulldogs Host SLC Lions

RUSTON, La. (Special) —A capacity crowd is expected here at 2 p.m., Saturday to watch the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs in their homecoming game against Southeastern Louisiana College.

It is a crucial Gulf States conference game, with the loser dropping out of contention for the title. The winner will have a good chance to win or tie for the GSC crown.

Tech has won four of seven this year while the Lions have won two of five. Southeastern was idle last week while the Techmen were defeated 26-12 by Memphis State.

The two clubs are somewhat alike, with both fielding teams with power and speed in the backfields and with defenses that have been somewhat erratic. Because of this, a wild offensive battle may comeoff Saturday afternoon.

Tech Halfback B. K. Miller may see his first action since the season opener when he was hurt. David Williamson, another halfback, may be ready for the first time since being hurt three weeks ago.

Both teams have been hampered by fumbles in recent outings. Tech lost four of six fumbles in losing to Memphis State and the Lions fumbled four times in crucial spots in losing to Northeast State 22-8 a couple of weeks ago.

No Athletics For L. Rock High Schools

LITTLE ROCK ,Ark. (AP)—The ruling agency decided Friday that Little Rock's Central and Hall High Schools will not be allowed to field athletic teams after the close of the football season if the schools do not reopen.

The decision was made by the executive committee of the Arkansas Athletic Assn., which also clarified several eligibility regulations in connection with the situation resulting from closing of the schools against integration by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

The committee ruled, "No public high school exists in Little Rock unless the schools reopen by Dec. 1.

This will permit students to become eligible for athletics at the first school which they enroll.

The committee had held previously that public schools still exist. That permitted Central and Hall to continue to field football teams despite the fact that no classes were being held. It prevented their students from becoming eligible at other schools for a year unless they moved to the other school district.

Coach Pete Fulford of Baptist High School here paid membership dues to the AAA shortly after the ruling was made.

Porkers Meet Baugh's Boys At Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. AP — The University of Arkansas, which grabbed its first victory from a pass-minded team last week meets another set of flingers Saturday in War Memorial Stadium.

Coach Sammy Baugh, the greatest flinger of them all, brings his Hardin-Simmons aerial circus to Arkansas with a 4-3 record, compared to the Porkers' 1-6.

Pitted against the Razorback secondary, which last week contained Texas A&M's vaunted aerial attack short of the goal, will be the nation's sixth-ranked receiver and two of the country's leading tossers.

Sammy Oates, a 210-pound freshman end, has caught 24 passes for 304 yards while quarterbacks Harold Stephens and Jim Tom Butler have a combined record of 104 completions in 214 attempts for 1,105 yards.

Pancake Supper

The West Monroe Junior High School Athletic Association will sponsor a pancake supper Saturday night at 5 o'clock at the school.

The supper will be held in the school cafeteria and the funds will be used to finance the school's athletic program.

Spike Briggs Off On Hunt, Tigers Maybe?

DETROIT (AP) — Spike Briggs, former president and general manager of the Detroit Baseball Co., takes off for Africa on a big game hunt Monday.

Some well-wishers at a going-away luncheon expressed hope Spike could bring back some tigers.

Spike explained: "Where I'm going there are no tigers."

Then he thought a moment and said: "In fact there weren't many Tigers where I came from."

Since football began at the University of Alabama in 1892 the Crimson Tide has had seven unbeaten seasons. Two came in succession in 1925 and 1926.

Willie Shoemaker won two of Chicago's major stakes during 1958 aboard Restless Wind. The pair took the Washington Park Futurity and the Arlington Futurity.

California leads all states in golf course activity for the third straight year. The state opened 31 new courses in 1958, has 25 under construction and 78 in the planning stage.

TIGERS AIM AT NO. 8

Fugler, Cannon To Lead LSU Against Duke Tonight

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Top-ranked Louisiana State looks to explosive Billy Cannon and mighty Max Fugler Saturday night to keep the unbeaten Tigers from tripping over Dukes big, rough line.

LSU, favorite for a bowl bid and the Southeastern Conference title, aims at victory number eight in the football contest that will see the Tigers break their own SEC home attendance mark.

Another sellout crowd of more than 65,000 — the third this fall — will push the total for five home games to 305,000, snapping the mark of 297,193 set last year in six games. Kickoff is 8 p.m. (CST).

Duke, Atlantic Coast Conference representative last Jan. 1 in the Orange Bowl, has a tough luck 3-4 record this year, losing to Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Virginia and South Carolina by a total of 15 points.

Cannon, fleet 200-pound halfback, is the SEC's top ground gainer, a threat of such proportions that Mississippi last week aimed its defense at stopping his the 14-0 victory over the previgaps elsewhere.

Fugler, 200-pound center, calls signals on the defense that stopped Mississippi four times inside the LSU two yard line, key play in thrusts to the right side, leaving ously unbeaten Rebels.

The agile junior center figured in all four tackles and was named Associated Press college lineman of the week.

Duke's hard-hitting split-T offense features sweeps by halfbacks Wray Carlton and George Dutrow and the passing of quarterback Brodhead.

The Blue Devils will have a weight advantage of more than 100 pounds over the LSU line, with the Tigers slightly heavier in the backfield.

However, LSU has an edge in speed and depth. Coach Paul Dietzel's three-unit system, white team, "Go team" and "Chinese bandits" has worn down a number of foes.

The "Go team" is the number two offensive unit and the "Chinese bandits" are the second string defensive unit. The white team is the first team, made up of the best 11 football players who play offense and defense..

Dietzel made one switch for Duke, moving guard Ed McCreedy from the bandits to the white unit in exchange with Tommy Lott, slowed by a leg injury. On defense only Lott will not be required to do the hard running required by the Tiger wing-T offense, which calls on guards to pull out and lead interference on almost every play.

Otherwise, except for bruises, the Tigers are in top shape.

Duke fullback Bob Cruikshank, who has been injured, is expected to be ready for LSU.

The Blue Devils arrived by plane Friday afternoon and worked out lightly under the lights at Tiger stadium Friday night.

Miss Hudson Is Concert Member At Baylor U.

Miss Patricia A. Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hudson, of Monroe, participated in the annual American Ideals concert at Baylor University, Waco, Texas, Thursday. Patricia is a member of the Baylor Oratorio Chorus.

The featured artists for this concert were Van Cliburn, winner of the recent Moscow piano competition, and Miklos Bencze, former leading basso of the Budapest Opera and currently professor of voice at Baylor's School of Music.

Daniel Sternberg, dean of the Music School, conducted the orchestra and chorus in the Coronation Scene and the Death Scene from Moussorgsky's opera "Boris Godunoff," with Mr. Bencze as soloist.

Mr. Cliburn teamed wth the orchestra in the Tschaikowsky Piano Concerto No. 1 in B flat minor, Op. 21. The orchestral portion of the concert included the Overture to "Russlan and Ludmilla" by Glinka and the Prelude and Quadruple Fugue of Alan Hovhaness.

McCranie Hi-Y Club Inducts New Members

The McCranie Hi-Y Club of Ouachita Parish High School held its induction of new members at a banquet at the Rendezvous. There were seventeen new members inducted into the chapter at that time. These boys were Tommy Poulan, Pat Ward, Ronnie Thomas, Ray Newman, Larry Kulcke, George Johnson, Leon Johnson, Jack Coleman, George Petch, Bobby Hendrix, William Haley, Robert Ferry, William Watson, Larry Lambert, Marion Edwards, and Billy Cornet.

Highlighting the program was an address given by Mr. J. Ben Duff, Associate Secretary for Youth Work on the Southern Area Y. M. C. A. Council in Atlanta, Georgia. His presentation was a challenge to do a good job as a member of Hi-Y and to live up to the Hi-Y Purpose which to "To Create, Maintain, and Extend High Standards of Christian Character."

Also, participating in the Induction Ceremony were the officers: President, Gary Futch; Vice President, Ken Renwick; Secretary, Jerry Ray Thomas; Treasurer, Walter Foust; Chaplain, Jerry W. Thomas; and Advisor Miss Josephine McCranie.

Sheriff Bailey Grant opened the Induction Ceremony with a challenge to the new members. Sheriff Grant, Mrs. Roberta Holdsworth, and Dr. Walter J. Ernst were present as members of the Youth Committee of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. of which the Hi-Y is a part. Mr. Vernon McCoy, President of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A.; Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Strickland, principal of Ouachita Parish High School; and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Robinson, general secretary of the Twin Cities Y. M. C. A. were guests at the banquet also.

The Invocation was given by Jerry Walter Thomas and the Pin Ceremony and Candlelight Service was conducted by Miss Josephine McCranie, Advisor of the Club.

Old members present were Jerry Ray Thomas, Gary Futch, Jerry W. Thomas, Jack Oglesbee, Ray Taunton, Mickey Williams, Bill Lane, Ken Renwick, Walter Foust, Frank Shipley, Dale Thorn and Tommy Godwin.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

You Have To Teach Tidiness To Child

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It seems incredible to a mother that her children take so long to learn to be neat. She forgets that her objectives are not the children's. Theirs is to play and have fun and not worry about the disorder; hers is to run a home in a way to be a credit to herself as a housewife.

Neatness is not an innate characterisitic, it has to be built into the child through habit. He has to be shown over and over and told many times that the house has to be kept tidy. His toys can be enjoyed all day, but at night they go into their boxes, baskets, shelves or drawers and stay there until the next day.

And don't think that just telling him will inspire any miracles in his behavior. He has to be told, and helped. Sometimes he may get a small reward for a hasty pickup; or he may play a game which engages his interest while his hands are busy.

Pretend

If he can pretend he is something besides a weary little boy—a bird picking up seeds, a squirrell gathering nuts — he may go through the right motions in a better spirit.

Sometimes if he thinks of himself, officially, as his mother's helper and has an apron around his middle and a paper hat on his head he'll perform with real vigor. And it's always better to say, "Let's do this," than "You do that," because it is more fun to be cooperative than a lone agent.

Even small children can get into the habit of picking up their own clothes. It doesn't take much effort to accustom a child to some small task such as "wastebasket dumper" or "ash-tray picker-upper," and these titles along with the privilege will over-joy the child. This isn't work it's fun.

Less Enchanted

As he grows, he becomes less enchanted with working or even helping, and then you have to resort to lists of tasks and time to perform them, rotating the tasks so they won't become monotonous and reminding the child that this is his home as well as yours and that each of you shares in its duties.

By the time a child has become an adolescent, there will be a more personal incentive to keep an orderly home. There is a certain amount of prestige in having a lovely home which appeals to a teen-ager and so the parents' objectives and the child's eventually become the same.

Pink And Blue Shower Given Mrs. Shirley

Mrs. Curtis Strickland entertained in her home in Ruston with a pink and blue surprise shower Thursday honoring Mrs. Middleton Shirley.

The serving table was covered with a lace cloth over pink satin. The lovely centerpiece was of pink carnations with tiny blue bows and this was flanked with pink candles.

Those attending were Mrs. E. M. Shirley, Mrs. Vann Pratt, Mrs. Travis Melton, Mrs. S. D. Lott, Mrs. A. H. Henderson, Miss Eva Jeanne Shirley, Miss Joyce Bryant, Mrs. Billy Leachman, Mrs. Morelle Emmons, Mrs. G. Avery Lee, Mrs. Max Rudd, Mrs. D. C. Lester, Mrs. Ronald Forney, Mrs. H. P. Clinton, Miss Marsha Kay Clinton, Miss Harriet Clinton and Mrs. A. G. Ownes Jr.

Bride-Elect Feted With A Shower

Miss Gail Fleming, bride-elect of Ralph W. Ward, whose wedding is an interesting event of the fall season, was delightfully complimented with a surprise shower at the home of Miss Rena Conaway. Co-hostess was Miss Carolyn Willis.

Those attending were: Miss Gail Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. A. Conaway, Mrs. H. W. Wroten, Miss Wanda Bullock, Miss Carolyn June Willis, Miss Sheila Townley, Miss Pat Hand, Miss Sybil Alford, Miss Julianna Hales, and Miss Mary Lawrence.

LARGE OPAL FOUND

ADELAIDE, Australia (UPI)—Three Australian aborigines found possibly the biggest opal ever seen with a likely value of $189,000 and sold the gem for $2,925, the government said Friday. South Australian State Works Minister Glen G. Pearson said an investigation was under way to determine whether the purchaser could be forced to pay the aborigines the true worth of the stone.

QUAKE ALERTS JAPAN

SAPPORO, Japan (UPI) — An earthquake centered deep in the Pacific Ocean shook northern Japan Friday but caused no serious damage. The rumblings brought residents of northern Hokkaido out of their homes and halted traffic. A tidal wave warning was issued. The danger soon passed, however. Scientists said the quake's center was far out in the ocean.

SENTENCES REDUCED

MADRID (UPI) — The government Friday trimmed the sentences of criminals serving lengthy terms and freed those serving less than two years to commemorate the close of one papal regime and the beginning of another one. It is a custom in Spain that has survived since the Middle Ages.

PAID IN FULL

SENTENCES REDUCED

MADRID (UPI) — The government Friday trimmed the sentences of criminals serving lengthy terms and freed those serving less than two years to commemorate the close of one papal regime and the beginning of another one. It is a custom in Spain that has survived since the Middle Ages.

PAID IN FULL

City Courts

WEST MONROE

Six persons had fines levied in West Monroe City Court yesterday with Judge Jasper E. Jones presiding.

John T. Drungo, 4315 Pippin St., Monroe, was fined $300 and costs or 90 days on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages.

Elsi Lee Williams, 613 New Natchitoches Rd., West Monroe, paid a $50 fine on a charge of theft of merchandise in the amount of less than $20.

A third person paid a fine of $55.50 on a speeding charge, and a fourth paid $30.50 on a charge of failure to appear in court in connection with another charge. He also paid $10.50 on a charge of running a stop sign.

A fifth person drew a 90-day compulsory jail sentence on a charge of disturbing the peace, and the sixth was fined $25 and costs or 25 days on the same charge.

Four persons forfeited bond. One forfeited $20.50 on a speeding charge; a second forfeited $35 on a charge of disturbing the peace, and the sixth was fined $25 and costs or 25 days on the same charge.

Four persons forfeited bond. One forfeited $20.50 on a speeding charge: a second forfeited $35 on a charge of disturbing the peace; the third forfeited $5.50 on a charge of running a red light, and the fourth forfeited $3.50 on a charge of running a stop sign.

MONROE

In a moderately heavy session yesterday predominated by traffic cases, Judge W. M. Harper fined Woodrow Varner, 21, 1601 rear Wash., $50 or 50 days for simple battery.

Six persons wer fined for speeding and 29 persons forfeited cash bonds from $5 to $42.50 for disregarding the posted limits. Three were sentenced to $25 or 25 days each for reckless driving while two forfeited bonds for the same offense.

Driving vehicles with inoperative brakes cost two persons $10 each plus court costs. Two persons forfeited bonds for violating one-way street signs. Five others forfeited bonds for running red lights and 10 for over-parking.

Other sentences included a fine of $25 or 25 days for disturbing the peace and three fines from $50 and 50 days to $25 and 25 days for public drunkenness.

Contract Muddle Still Not Clear

A confused situation over a Monroe Utilities Commission street contract with Arthur Brothers Contractors had not been cleared last night despite the stand taken by Commissioner W. D. H. Rodriguez.

Rodriguez said the city would hold Arthur Brothers to the contract, which was contested in a special session of the City Council yesterday.

But Travis Oliver, Jr., Utilities Commission chairman, said "no action" would be taken until he looked into the matter further and made an announcement early next week.

The trouble arose over work now being done on Park Avenue where Arthur Brothers, under contract with the Utilities Commission, recently laid a new 16-inch water main.

DITCH

To do so, the contractors dug a ditch down the middle of the street. An apparent "misunderstanding" came about over whether the contractors should "cutback" — lay a concrete surface —six inches or either a foot on each side of the ditch to patch the street.

Rodriguez said the contract was clear in calling for a one-foot "cutback," but Oliver said he would have to check into it before making a statement.

Previously Mayor W. L. "Jack" Howard said in the City Council meeting that he felt the contractors shouldn't be held responsible for a city "misunderstanding."

The contractors have "cutback" six inches on each side of the ditch. Should the city hold them to making a one-foot "cutback," they would be bound to do so at their own expense.

Howard was in Baton Rouge last night, but Rodriguez said he talked to him after the council meeting. Howard is in support of the stand taken by Rodriguez, according to Rodriguez.

CITY ENGINEERING

Even though the contract is a Utilities Commission matter, the city entered the trouble since specifications for the street patchwork were okayed by the city engineering department.

Oliver pointed out, "The Utilities Commission does not specialize in street work, so the specifications had to be approved by the city engineer."

Arthur Brothers received the contract on the basis of a $156,000 bid. Closest bid to Arthur Brothers was made by Coleman-Wilbanks — $158,000.

Should the Utilities Commission and city follow Rodriguez's stand, Arthur Brothers would have to pay an additional $5,000 or $6,000 out on the job to meet what Rodriguez terms "specifications made clear in the contract."

The City Council tabled the matter at its meeting and turned it over to Rodriguez. He said last night the city was going to hold the contractors to the contract.

But Oliver said, "We would like to study the matter further and will consult with the city before rendering a decision by the first part of the week."

At the special meeting, Herbert Dickard, Utilities Commission consulting engineer, approved the manner in which Arthur Brothers handled the job.

Heart Disease Is Discussed At Conference

BATON ROUGE —(AP) — Most heart diseases, a specialist from Tulane University said Friday night, can now be surgically corrected with a mortality rate no greater than in other types of surgery.

Dr. Oscar Creech Jr., chairman of the department of surgery at Tulane, spoke at the opening session of the Louisiana Heart Conference.

Diseases of the heart occupied the opening session and speakers said excessive fat consumption does not necessarily lead to fat deposits in the arteries.

GSU HAS NEW VICE PREXY

Gulf States Utilities Co., has a new vice president. He is Eldon A. Werner of Baton Rouge, who moves up from a post as personnel manager.

Werner will continue to direct the company's personnel, employe training and safety- claims departments.
